More Than $100 in Cash and Other Items Taken From Homes; Two Under 16

Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly, B.C.I., of the Kingston state police substation, reported today that he and Cpl. Ray Dunn of Phoenicia apprehended two boys under 16 who allegedly participated in a series of burglaries in Woodstock and carried the "loot" away in the woods.

Articles reportedly taken this week from two homes and the American Legion Hall in Woodstock were recovered, Sgt. Reilly said. The list included "more than $100" in cash as well as numerous items such as lamps, watches, a radio and five cases of soda.

The youths, whose names are withheld because of their age, will be taken before the Children's Court.

Investigation began with the reported theft of the cash, watches, clocks and lamps from a home in Woodstock on Tuesday night. The cash was reported as "more than $100," and the other items would probably be valued at between $150 and $200, Sgt. Reilly said.

Hidden in Woods

The allegedly stolen articles were found hidden in the woods, along with other items which troopers said they learned after investigation and questioning of the youngsters had been taken Monday night from the American Legion Hall in Woodstock. The theft from the Legion building had not been previously reported to state police, Sgt. Reilly said.

Things reported taken from the Legion building included silverware, table cloths, a radio, helmets, gas masks, American flags, five cases of soda, fluorescent lamps and others.

All the missing items were recovered by Sgt. Reilly and Cpl. Dunn, they reported.

Sticks to Prediction

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall today stuck to his prediction that the country is in for another round of price increases that will send living costs zooming to a new high this fall. The nation's price chief, who plans to quit Sept. 1, told a reporter all the signs point to increasing inflation in the next three months or so.

Ready to Back Adlai

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—The CIO was primed today to give its official support to Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president. CIO President Philip Murray said a meeting of the executive board will "in all likelihood" take up the question in its day-long session. He left small doubt that a statement would be forthcoming before nightfall.

Dropped Fuel Tank Hits House; One Hurt

Dover, Del., Aug. 14 (AP)—An Air Force F-94 Thunderjet fighter crashed about a mile from here late last night injuring the pilot and radar observer. A fuel tank jettisoned by the pilot from the plane's wing landed against the home of an air force World War 2 ace, injuring his wife moments before the crash.

An air force spokesman said the plane "developed some sort of trouble" and the pilot "in proper procedure" jettisoned two full wing tanks of fuel.

One of the tanks smashed against the corner of a brick home where Col. Harold Rau, credited with downing five German planes in World War 2, his wife, Norma and their four-year-old daughter Stephanie were sleeping.

Eden Is Married At Brief Ceremony

Clarissa Churchill Becomes Bride in Civil Rites at Caxton Hall

London, Aug. 4 (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden married his boss's niece, 32-year-old Clarissa Churchill, today in a brief civil ceremony. The handsome groom was all smiles.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill was a witness as the 32-year-old daughter of his dead brother and his 55-year-old political heir apparent were united in London's Caxton Hall.

It was Eden's second marriage and his bride's first. Because of his divorce two years ago from the former Beatrice Beckett—now living in New York city—today's ceremony could not be performed in the Church of England.

2,000 Collect Outside

Eden drove to the hall with his elder brother, Sir Timothy Eden, through a cheering crowd estimated at some 2,000. The groom wore a blue lounge suit with a white carnation in his buttonhole. He waved and beamed as the spectators clapped and yelled.

Ten minutes later the bride arrived with her brother John. She wore a lilac taffeta dress

Hit-Run Death Reported; Hotel Worker Is Victim

Lightning Strikes Youth Five Times; Companion Killed

Seattle, Aug. 14 (AP)—A young mountain climber struck five times by lightning as he and a companion stood atop Mount Stuart in the Cascades says he considers himself "the luckiest man there is, to be alive."

"After the third bolt, I thought I wanted to die," Alan Robert Grant, 19, Seattle said yesterday.

Grant's companion, Paul Brikoff, 20, was killed in the storm that struck just after they reached the summit of the 9,470-foot peak Sunday.

Three Days on Mountain

Grant spent three days on the mountain waiting rescue. He was removed by a coast guard helicopter yesterday and brought to Seattle.

Grant said the first bolt knocked them both to the ground, and after the second bolt he found he could move only one leg.

"The third bolt was the worst," he said. "It took me up and tossed me over a 20-foot cliff and knocked me out."

Grant said when he regained consciousness he could hear Brikoff screaming on the summit. There were two more bolts, he said, and the fifth scored a direct hit on Brikoff's back. When Grant reached Brikoff's side he found him dead.

Grant said heat from the lightning was so great it melted cans in the pack on his back.

Accident Occurs Near Greenfield Park; Body Found in Ditch

The victim of a hit-run driver was found dead early today along Route 52 near Greenfield Park.

State police and Coroner Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson have identified the fatally injured man as Charles Andrew Moorefield, area hotel worker, between 40 and 50 years of age.

Troopers believe the man was struck by an automobile sometime during the night and lay in a ditch along the highway until the body was discovered by a passerby who notified tropoers at the Ellenville station at 6:20 a. m. today.

Autopsy Ordered

Coroner Chipp today ordered an autopsy to determine the cause of death. He indicated, however, that there was no doubt that the man had been struck by an automobile.

The body was found at a point on Route 52 on the Ulster county side of the Ulster-Sullivan border, west of Ellenville, between the hamlets of Woodbourne and Greenfield Park.

Investigation by troopers is continuing.

Stevenson Teams With Barkley for Talk Preliminary

Two Scheduled to Speak at Illinois State Fair; May Reply to Charge

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson teamed up today with Vice President Alben Barkley for a speech-making preliminary to his big presidential campaign kickoff on Labor Day with President Truman.

Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, and Barkley were slated to speak at the Illinois State Fair (12:30 p. m. EST) where GOP vice presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon of California told Republicans yesterday Stevenson is a candidate of "the bosses."

Barkley and Stevenson will have a chance to answer that charge and make a few observations of their own in their appearance before a Democratic rally.

The formal Labor Day opening of the Democratic drive to put Stevenson in the White House will find the Illinois governor speaking at noon in Detroit while President Truman appears at 9 p. m. (EST) in Milwaukee on the same day.

To Sponsor Speeches

Their September 1 speeches will be sponsored by labor groups in those cities.

Beyond this opening day's strategy, the Stevenson command was reported to have adopted no firm campaign plans except the general agreement that Stevenson will

Marines Repulse Two Red Attacks On Bunker Hill

Belgium Cuts Its Conscription Term To 21-Month Total

Ridgway Has New Trouble When Country Fails to Influence Others

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—Belgium's decision to cut down its military conscription period created new troubles for Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's European army which apparently were not anticipated here a short while ago.

The Brussels government decided yesterday to knock three months off the 24-month service period for conscripts. It had failed the previous day to get neighboring countries to agree on a common two-year training program.

American officials, testifying before Congress on foreign aid in March and April, predicted several recent European developments, including the economic troubles which evidently have cancelled plans to raise 50 divisions by the end of this year.

Difficult Problems

They said they wanted to increase the training of reserves throughout Western Europe, as the key to the whole defense plan, and they said this would create difficult problems.

But there was no hint in voluminous testimony at that time that these officials expected any European nation to cut down on the length of conscript service.

Belgium is the only member of the European Defense Community (EDC) with a two-year service period. Norway requires 12 months, The Netherlands and France 18 months, and Italy 15 months. Great Britain, which is not an EDC member, has two years' service.

Strikes Break Out

Strikes and demonstrations against the conscription period broke out in Belgium last week. The Belgians requested a meeting of EDC partners to seek a common two-year term, but no agreement was reached. Brussels then announced its conscripts would have to serve only 21 months, although the official period remains two years.

Gen. Ridgway, supreme allied commander, had told the EDC representatives that two years' training was the minimum for the caliber of reserve troops needed. American officials in Europe have tried for months to get a common two-year period.

Belgium has one of the smallest forces in the EDC. Congress was told in March that this totalled 136,000 men. However, this was 1.5 per cent of Belgium's nearly nine million people—the largest proportionate contribution.

The most important effect of the Brussels action is apt to be psychological. If this movement spreads or the Communists succeed in capitalizing on it, the European buildup could be drastically affected.

Onslaught Leaves Many Chinese Dead—Planes Hit Enemy

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 14 (AP)—U. S. Marines beat back two fierce Communist attacks Wednesday night and today to retain their newly-won hold on Bunker Hill, in western Korea.

The battalion-size Red assaults were the third and fourth futile attempts to recapture territory seized early Tuesday by the leathernecks.

A UN briefing officer said Communist casualties were heavy. By mid-day, he said, dead enemy soldiers lay sprawled in groups on the scarred slope of the hill, only four miles east of Panmunjom, the truce talks site.

More Than 500 Killed

Maj. Gen. John Selden, commander of the U. S. First Marine Division, estimated "well over 500" Reds have been killed in four days of fighting on Bunker Hill, which he called "the biggest marine action since we reached the western front." The general said the Bunker Hill operation succeeded as a result of "beautiful teamwork—air artillery, mortars, tanks, rockets and all the rest."

He singled out chest-protecting armored vests as "worth their weight in lives."

Allied warplanes continued to hammer at Red positions today. The air force said they knocked out nine troop bunkers and three gun positions, and killed or wounded 20 Communists near Bunker Hill. Bone-tired marines, meanwhile, huddled to their prefabricated timbered bunkers awaiting new Red moves.

Says Move Unwise One, Confusing

General Says He Lived With Problems Years —Prefers Freedom to Criticize

Sees No Necessity

Could Change Decision, if Emergency Should Arise

Denver, Aug. 15 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee, today rejected an invitation from President Truman to go to Washington for a confidential "briefing" on the international situation.

The general sent a telegram to the President saying "it is my duty to remain free" to analyze Truman administration policies publicly, and that it would be "unwise and result in confusion in the public mind" if he accepted the bid.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic candidate for the presidency, was given a briefing on international affairs at the White House Tuesday. He met with Truman and his cabinet, and with defense and intelligence officials.

Criticizes Stevenson Move

The same day, Eisenhower sharply criticized the move. He said it signified the present administration is determined to nail down through its hand-picked successors every detail of the doctrines and policies that have brought us to the present situation of bewilderment, indecision and fear for the future."

In his telegram to Truman today, Eisenhower said:

"As you know, the problems which you suggest for discussion are those with which I have lived for many years. In spite of this, I would instantly change this decision (not to accept the President's invitation) in the event there should arise a grave national emergency.

"There is nothing in your message to indicate that this is presently the case."

In Washington, Truman's press secretary, Joseph Short, told reporters "the emergency question was never considered. It never entered into the invitation at all."

Short said the invitation to Eisenhower was sent to the general yesterday, but that it was "in the works" before Stevenson's conference with Truman at the White House Tuesday.

In response to another question shore said Truman would not comment on Eisenhower's decision at this time.

Truman has a news conference scheduled for 3 p. m. (EST) today.

Short said both Stevenson and Eisenhower will receive weekly reports on the international situation from the Central Intelligence Agency.

Truman included the offer of these reports in his telegram yesterday to Eisenhower and the general accepted that offer.

To Get Weekly Reports

The general did accept an offer by the President to make available to the GOP nominee secret weekly reports from the Central Intelligence Agency. Presumably Stevenson also will receive those.

But Eisenhower said he wanted it understood that except in cases where U. S. security is involved, "possession of these reports will in no way limit my freedom to discuss or analyze foreign programs as my judgment dictates."

Release of the Eisenhower telegram to Truman confirmed a top Democratic official's statement to a Washington reporter yesterday that the administration is willing to keep the general abreast of international developments while he campaigns for the presidency. The official, who asked not to be named, said Eisenhower probably already had been told that—and he had.

No Text of Invitation

Eisenhower headquarters did not make public the text of the President's invitation, which the general received yesterday.

In his telegram to Truman, Eisenhower said:

"Thank you for your offer to have me briefed by certain officers of the government on the foreign situation. On the personal side, I

Some of Colonial Gardens Rooms Expected to Be Open by Dec. 1

Brick work has been completed on seven of the 18 building units in the project and it is expected that the first apartments will be tenanted by Dec. 1, Davis said.

Hygiene Council Pushes Matter of Patient Release

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP) — The State Mental Hygiene Council today pressed a study to find whether New York must erect additional barriers to the release of dangerous patients from mental institutions.

The council met yesterday. Chairman Charles L. Deangelis told reporters after the hour-long meeting that he would head an executive committee of four council members to survey release procedures.

"Our purpose," Deangelis said, "is to discover whether there is any way in which our laws or procedures can be improved to provide additional precautions against the release of dangerous or violent persons."

Gov. Dewey requested the survey after the slaying July 14 at Columbia University of Ellen Fahey, an 18-year-old office worker. A former mental patient, Bayard Peake, has confessed he shot the girl.

In commenting on the scope of the study, Deangelis and Dr. Newton Bigelow, state mental hygiene commissioner, declined to say whether they or the council thought action was needed.

Both said they did not have enough facts to support any conclusions.

Dr. Bigelow described the procedures for releasing inmates of state intsitutions, and said he thought it was adequate. He indicated that most private institutions had similar precautions against premature releases.

Dr. Bigelow said that Peakes would not have been released

He said it signified the present administration is determined to nail down through its hand-picked successors every detail of the doctrines and policies that have brought us to the present situation of bewilderment, indecision and fear for the future."

In his telegram to Truman today, Eisenhower said:

"As you know, the problems which you suggest for discussion are those with which I have lived for many years. In spite of this, I would instantly change this decision (not to accept the President's invitation) in the event there should arise a grave national emergency.

"There is nothing in your message to indicate that this is presently the case."

In Washington, Truman's press secretary, Joseph Short, told reporters "the emergency question was never considered. It never entered into the invitation at all."

Short said the invitation to Eisenhower was sent to the general yesterday, but that it was "in the works" before Stevenson's conference with Truman at the White House Tuesday.

In response to another question shore said Truman would not comment on Eisenhower's decision at this time.

Truman has a news conference scheduled for 3 p. m. (EST) today.

Short said both Stevenson and Eisenhower will receive weekly reports on the international situation from the Central Intelligence Agency.

Truman included the offer of these reports in his telegram yesterday to Eisenhower and the general accepted that offer.

To Get Weekly Reports

The general did accept an offer by the President to make available to the GOP nominee secret weekly reports from the Central Intelligence Agency. Presumably Stevenson also will receive those.

But Eisenhower said he wanted it understood that except in cases where U. S. security is involved, "possession of these reports will in no way limit my freedom to discuss or analyze foreign programs as my judgment dictates."

Release of the Eisenhower telegram to Truman confirmed a top Democratic official's statement to a Washington reporter yesterday that the administration is willing to keep the general abreast of international developments while he campaigns for the presidency. The official, who asked not to be named, said Eisenhower probably already had been told that—and he had.

No Text of Invitation

Eisenhower headquarters did not make public the text of the President's invitation, which the general received yesterday.

In his telegram to Truman, Eisenhower said:

"Thank you for your offer to have me briefed by certain officers of the government on the foreign situation. On the personal side, I

Hygiene Council Pushes Matter of Patient Release

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP) — The State Mental Hygiene Council today pressed a study to find whether New York must erect additional barriers to the release of dangerous patients from mental institutions.

The council met yesterday. Chairman Charles L. Deangelis told reporters after the hour-long meeting that he would head an executive committee of four council members to survey release procedures.

"Our purpose," Deangelis said, "is to discover whether there is any way in which our laws or procedures can be improved to provide additional precautions against the release of dangerous or violent persons."

Gov. Dewey requested the survey after the slaying July 14 at Columbia University of Ellen Fahey, an 18-year-old office worker. A former mental patient, Bayard Peake, has confessed he shot the girl.

In commenting on the scope of the study, Deangelis and Dr. Newton Bigelow, state mental hygiene commissioner, declined to say whether they or the council thought action was needed.

Both said they did not have enough facts to support any conclusions.

Dr. Bigelow described the procedures for releasing inmates of state intsitutions, and said he thought it was adequate. He indicated that most private institutions had similar precautions against premature releases.

Dr. Bigelow said that Peakes would not have been released

Plans Jets for Cars

London, Aug. 14 (AP)—One of Britain's biggest automobile makers, the Austin Motor Company, took out patents today on a gas turbine "jet" engine for cars and trucks. The engine, the company said, is still in the experimental stage. Another British motor manufacturer—Rootes, Ltd., who make the Hillman—also is working on an experimental jet engine for autos.

KINGSTON DAYS

Friday and Saturday of this week Kingston merchants will offer the public an unusual opportunity to purchase reliable merchandise at big savings. The special sales offerings by the local merchants are unique in that they pass on to the consumer savings on seasonal and reliable goods which the family needs.

The local merchants, who are the purchasing agents for the consumers in this trading area, have stocked quality merchandise at very attractive prices, which they will offer the public. The Summer sales have been reported as unusually good and many stores have very little merchandise remaining in Summer stocks. This will result in a large amount of Fall goods being offered the public.

Twice a year the Kingston merchants offer genuine bargains at Kingston Days and they are looked forward to by wise shoppers. This pre-Fall sale is expected to attract a record crowd of shoppers not only from Kingston and Ulster County but also from the surrounding area.

Regular store hours will be in effect on both Friday and Saturday. The stores will remain open until 9 o'clock in the evening on Friday and close at 5 o'clock on Saturday.

SEVEN YEARS LATER

Seven years ago, on August 14, 1945, the global conflict of World War II came to an end with the surrender of the Japanese empire.

On that eventful V-J day American rejoicing was mingled with the hope, shared by all mankind, that the world would settle down to lasting peace.

Our hopes were shortlived, unfortunately. As the Axis powers disappeared from the scene, the aggressive forces of communism became eager for expansion. America's overtures for a peaceful solution of world problems were treated with contempt.

From 1945 to 1950 the world was in a state of tension which increased with each aggressive act of the communist world. Then in the summer of 1950 the communists made their boldest move. They marched into South Korea in clear violation of earlier pacts and promises.

The hostilities in Korea go on, even while our efforts for peace continue. But so far the communist aggressors show no sincerity or real desire for a peaceful solution as the truce talks go on.

Although we keep the door wide open for much-hoped for peace, America has been learning an important lesson—that to insure peace, we must be strong. Thus, seven years after V-J Day, America has built up and continues to build up its armed strength.

To keep America's defense strong, our economy must be strong, too. And that's where every American can help substantially . . . by buying United States Defense Bonds. Every bond bought helps to keep America's economic power as strong as our fighting forces are keeping her military power.

The stronger our nation is, the greater is the possibility that by the time the next V-J anniversary arrives, we will have the real peace we all ardently strive for.

EX-NEW DEALER

A name familiar to the country but not in the ranks of Utah Republicans, is Marriner S. Eccles, candidate for the party's nomination for senator. Eccles, a banker, served Presidents Roosevelt and Truman as chairman of the federal reserve board. He is one of the highest placed former Democratic officials to split with his party. Only Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, who has been justice of the Supreme Court and secretary of state, besides holding various important posts during the war, can compare with him.

Eccles disagreed on board policies with President Truman, and was demoted from his chairmanship. His recent book of memoirs, setting forth his disagreements on technical banking matters, is unlike the writings of many former members of New Deal administrations. Most of those who fell out with either President Roosevelt or President Truman display great bitterness over the break.

Eccles faces Senator Arthur V. Watkins in the September 9 primaries. As Watkins is one of the more conservative senators, the line will be clearly drawn between him and the liberal Eccles.

MORE EXCEPTIONS

Congress passed and the President approved the following law:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That, under such terms and conditions as he shall determine, the President is hereby authorized to extend, or to enter into an agreement extending, to the representatives of member states (other than the United States) on the Council of the Organization of American States, and to members of their staffs, the same privileges and immunities, subject to corresponding conditions and obligations, as are enjoyed by diplomatic envoys accredited to the United States."

Nobody seems to bother about such matters any more, but here is an additional group of aliens who are given privileges in the United States which American citizens do not enjoy. Everybody connected with the United Nations, down to the chauffeurs of the underlings, enjoys the privilege of extraterritoriality.

One day last winter, I was coming out of a restaurant in Rockefeller Center, when I saw a policeman politely, almost deferentially, telling the chauffeur of one of those UN cars to move out of a space where no one is permitted to park. The chauffeur resisted the suggestion, insisted upon his privileges, but as a crowd had gathered, he finally thought of the effects of public opinion on his country which was undoubtedly getting a subsidy from us on one pretext or another.

I asked the harried policeman why he did not tell the so and so to get the hell out of there as he would do to any American under similar or the same circumstances. He answered that it would result in a diplomatic crisis with the State Department writing a formal note to the Mayor of New York.

Extraterritoriality is a courtesy reserved for diplomats with the object of freeing them from restraints by the country to which they have been delegated. It is a privilege which is nearly always abused. From the diplomat, as a person, it has been extended to his household and to his office staff and to those who service them. Its extension has been abused by some countries giving diplomatic passports to those who have no right to them, including spies.

It is true that just as the United States grants extraterritorial privileges to foreign diplomats, so they are granted to our representatives abroad. The difference, however, is that many or even most of the international organizations, such as the United Nations, are now situated in the United States and there are therefore too many persons in this country who enjoy extraterritorial privileges. In New York, the United Nations people get a special license plate with UN on it to warn anyone not to get into trouble with the driver of that car as he need pay no damages, need carry no insurance and cannot be arrested.

This is an extension of extraterritorial privileges beyond wisdom or necessity. I lived under extraterritorial conditions for nearly 14 years and can witness that consular officers of some European and Central and South American countries sold passports and extraterritorial privileges. There was a law firm in Shanghai that specialized in this business and very profitably.

I knew in Shanghai the Chinese who specialized in the opium trade and they always were able to have the protection of persons enjoying extraterritorial privileges. The system was so scandalous, its abuse so notorious that it became one of the principal objects of an anti-foreign movement and was finally abolished in a series of new treaties negotiated with Chiang Kai-shek's government.

When only a few responsible persons enjoyed extraterritorial privileges, the abuses were likely to be unimportant. But when the system is extended wholesale to include chauffeurs and cooks and office-boys, the degree of responsibility must be lessened.

Someday, there will be a murder or a dope-peddling case, or the smuggling of jewels in diplomatic pouches for private sale—and then the fat will be in the fire.

Meanwhile, would it not be smarter for a Congressional committee to study extraterritoriality in the United States, how it operates, who is privileged to enjoy it, how it applies to our traffic laws, to the payment of personal bills, and the dangers of abuse? Then let there be a full report on the subject so that the American people might know just what we have been let in for.

GOITER—OVERACTIVE THYROID GLAND

I have written before of a physician friend who came into my office, sat down, and asked me to take his pulse rate. His heart was beating a steady 72 beats to the minute (normal). He stated that he had just walked from his office, three blocks away. As his heart rate had been much higher (over 100 to the minute) on previous occasions, he calmly explained that he had just come out of the hospital the day before after having his thyroid gland removed (operation for goiter). We were both pleased at the immediate satisfactory results obtained by operation.

Other methods of removing goiter, particularly X-ray treatments, give satisfactory results but it takes about an average of nine months to complete the cure. There are, of course, some cases of exophthalmic goiter in which operation is not advisable.

Some idea of the satisfactory and immediate results obtained by surgical removal of the thyroid gland—thyroidectomy—may be obtained in a report by Dr. M. P. Kelsey in Postgraduate Medicine. "Thyroidectomy is still the method of choice for patients with uncomplicated hyperthyroidism (overactive thyroid gland-goiter). Operation is the only one with a proved record of long-term, high success and it still has the best record for immediate results. The disease is readily controlled; the patient is in the hospital four to six days and returns to work in two to four weeks. There are few complications and there is a minimum (very small amount) of following treatment after the operation."

While iodine is always helpful in the treatment of goiter, it rarely cures and is used as a supplementary agent in treating hyperthyroidism. After operation, iodine is useful to protect against recurrence of hyperthyroidism in the toxic or poisonous type of goiter.

"Radio-iodine controls hyperthyroidism in a manner similar to X-ray treatment but larger dose may be given by radio-iodine. Radio-iodine is most useful in patients who are poor surgical risks. In rapid heart beat, trembling — surgical removal is complicated exophthalmic goiter — bulging eyes, the method of choice or prolonged medical management if radio-iodine is not available and surgery is too risky," says Dr. Kelsey.

When the family physician advises that the thyroid gland be removed, he takes into consideration the above facts and is in the best position to advise the form of treatment in any particular case.

Benevolence Sure Is a Screwy Business

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—When "Big Chief" Eisenhower promised "full justice" to New Mexican Indians this week, he probably didn't know that increased defense demands for timber, oil and uranium have quadrupled the value of Indian land in the past decade and that, as a result, "lo the poor Indian" has become very much worth plucking.

This column in March, 1948, exposed the manner in which the Vanadium Corporation was haggling over the payment of royalties to the Navajos. Latest development in restoring "full justice" to the Indians in the manner in which a group of lawyers is scrambling to represent them.

Indian tribes have now been permitted to file millions of dollars worth of claims against the federal government, with the result that legal representation of the Indians can be extremely profitable. Ernest Wilkinson, for instance, recently was awarded a $3,000,000 fee for prosecuting Indian claims against Uncle Sam.

One of the most interesting Indian lawyers is James E. Curry, who was on the way to having a near monopoly of Indian legal practice—a total of 41 contracts with 36 different tribes or groups.

Curry is general counsel of the National Congress of American Indians, also represents such diverse and scattered Indian groups as the Standing Rock Sioux, the White Mountain Apaches, Yavapi Apaches, Sitka Community Association, Salt River-Pima-Maricopa Indians, Colorado River Indians, Fort Peck Indians, Fort McDowell Paiute Shoshones, the Moapa Band of Paiutes, the Walker River Paiutes, the Yerlington Paiutes, the Caddo Tribe of Oklahoma, the Reno-Sparks Indians, the Tlingit and Haida Indians, with various others.

Downtrodden Red Man

Part of the technique of representing the Indians is to make it appear they are abused, downtrodden, and unfairly dealt with by Uncle Sam.

Actually, the Interior Department's Indian Bureau is now doing its best to get the government out of the Indian business. Despite this, certain Indian lawyers continually raise the cry of government persecution.

The Indian law business has become so profitable that it was recently investigated by a Senate subcommittee under Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico. Among other things, it heard testimony that Indian lawyer Curry had harangued a meeting of Alaskan Indians, cursing the white man and urging that they take legal steps against the government — presumably through Curry.

"In the course of his speech," testified Governor Gruening of Alaska before the committee, "he made a number of statements which rather surprised me. He said, 'this land (Alaska) was all yours,' meaning it belonged to the Indians. 'These lands have been stolen from you, and anything the white man gets is just so much by the grace of your kindness.'"

Governor Gruening testified that later that evening he had encountered Curry and remarked:

"This line that you propagate, that this land has been stolen from the Indians—you know that is bunk, don't you?"

"Yes," Curry replied, "but that's a good line and gets the sob sisters in the east."

Lawyers' Propaganda

Contracts between Indian tribes and the lawyers must be okayed by the commission of Indian affairs. This has caused constant conflict between Curry and Indian Commissioner Dillon Myer, which some observers think is the reason for the bitter attacks on Myer.

For instance, Commissioner Myer, in reviewing Curry's legal contracts, found that his fee for one Alaskan tribe was twice the amount of the tribe's annual income. Shortly after Myer began to ask questions about Curry's contracts, the National Congress of American Indians, of which Curry is legal counsel, launched its attack "to protect the Indians' civil rights."

In the forefront of the attack on the Indian bureau has been the Association on American Indian Affairs, whose general counsel is Felix Cohen, a former high official of the Interior Department. Cohen is also a partner in a syndicate seeking more than $4,000,000,000 in Indian claims against the government which Cohen once represented.

It may or may not be significant, but at the time Commissioner Myer began to scrutinize carefully the contracts of lawyers representing Indians, Washington began to be flooded with letters of protest, urging that the government let the Indians hire their own lawyers without any government supervision.

One of the gripes which the Senate Investigating Committee heard was that lawyer Curry, when retained as general counsel of the National Congress of American Indians, agreed to give free legal aid to poorer tribes. But when the Pyramid Lake tribe of Nevada appealed to the Congress of American Indians for free legal aid, they were confronted by a contract, naming Curry as their attorney at $3,000 annually plus expenses. The fee was finally reduced at $1,500.

"This free-legal-aid bait," William Fire Thunder, a full-blooded Sioux leader, told the senators, "was held out to the various tribes, including the Alaskan tribe, for the purpose of enticing membership in the Congress of American Indians and later feathering the nest of one James E. Curry."

One of Curry's supporters is Ruth Muskrat Bronson, former executive secretary of the Congress of American Indians, who according to Senate testimony, helped to throw legal contracts into Curry's lap.

How the propaganda barrage to help the downtrodden Indian is turned on through well-meaning Indian protection groups was indicated by the testimony of Roy Mobley, a former partner of Curry.

"I walked into Mr. Curry's office," said Mobley. "He was talking on the telephone. When he got through he hung up and said, 'that was one of my women friends.'"

Senator Anderson objected. "Does that have any relationship to this case?"

"I think so," Mobley replied. "Curry said 'I've got an organization of mean women in Washington.' He said that they were so placed around over the city that they could spread any kind of information or rumor he asked them to within a short time, and carry out any propaganda assignment that he gave them."

Surprise Is in Store for Those Who See No Difference in Viewpoint

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 14—Those folks who have been assuming all along that there would be no "difference" of viewpoint between General Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson on foreign policy and that there might not be so much difference between their speeches even on domestic policies are in for a surprise.

Judging by the latest pronouncement of General Eisenhower, which has been referred to in the press already as the strongest words he has used thus far in attacking the Truman administration, the Republican nominee is apparently going to pitch his campaign on a basis which will differentiate him considerably from the Democratic nominee. The key is to be found in one paragraph of the comment on the Truman-Stevenson meeting which General Eisenhower made:

"The American people want a change, not just for the sake of change. They want more than a change of names and faces. They want a change in order to replace corruption with honesty; reckless spending with economy; inflation with economic stability; mismanagement in foreign affairs with clear-cut policies and programs for positive peace; brazen assertions of 'inherent power' with constitutional government, both in spirit and deed."

There in a nutshell is the whole theme of the Eisenhower campaign, for in each phrase is an issue of major importance.

Certainly "mismanagement in foreign affairs" is far from asserting an agreement with the administration's foreign policy. Also, "clear-cut policies and programs for positive peace" indicates plainly a dissent from State Department policies and programs, however much Eisenhower might concur in the general objective of cooperation with other nations which are our allies.

Presumably the Republican nominee will elucidate his viewpoint in campaign speeches but any idea that he will not be severely critical of the administration's foreign policy—something the Democrats keep harping on as logical—is really wishful thinking. For the same General Eisenhower also said in his statement that the meeting in Washington of the President and Governor Stevenson "signified that the present administration is determined to nail down, through its hand-picked successors, every detail of the doctrines and policies that have brought us to the present situation of bewilderment, indecision and fear for the future."

These words are such a definite turn toward the tactics of attack that one suspects the general might have been waiting for the opportunity which the Stevenson-Truman meeting gave him to open fire on the administration.

Nor is the point which General Eisenhower made concerning the presence of military officials at the Truman-Stevenson meeting likely to be dropped, even though there were reports on Capitol Hill today that President Truman planned to invite the general to come to the White House to get the same "briefing" from the officers who discussed the international situation with Governor Stevenson.

Just what purpose was served by bringing in security officers to the political conference is not clear, anyway. If General Eisenhower comes here for a similar "briefing," he not only will relieve Mr. Truman and Mr. Stevenson from an embarrassing situation but he will become involved himself in a form of restraint which it would be most unwise to impose on any candidate in a campaign.

The assumption that neither nominee is able without military "briefing" to discuss the international policies of the United States is one that was not born in the mind of any supercautious diplomat but rather in the artifices of political strategy. The truth is some Democrats here were afraid that a meeting between Stevenson and Truman would be construed as an obvious tieing together of the policies of the Truman administration with the campaign of the nominee, so the military uniforms were introduced as a bit of camouflage.

If there are any confidential facts on foreign policy that a presidential nominee should know, they ought not to be conveyed to him by the government, as he is a private citizen. The information should go first to Republican and Democratic members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who all along are supposed to have been in the confidence of the government. On its face, a half-hour's "briefing" cannot have been seriously intended as a background talk on all the delicate aspects of our foreign relations. So the conclusion is obvious that it was a device to overcome criticism and it turned out to be the subject of criticism itself. This will not be removed by an invitation to General Eisenhower to compound the mistake by participating in any quasi-military consultations aimed at guiding his campaign.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I wish we Republicans had a candidate in this year's election, but there seems to be only a faint possibility that General Eisenhower will qualify. To do so he will have to brush off Paul Hoffman, repent of the arrogant fraud which delivered the Connecticut delegation from the hands of a gang who had the gall to prate "thou shalt not steal" in Chicago, and get hot on unionism, withholding and the duplication of taxes in several overlapping fields. He will also have to explain why he took Joe Barnes of the Herald Tribune, a notorious fellow traveler, to ghost his war book.

Hoffman is an adventurer with an alarming record developed clandestinely in cooperation with a thoroughly corrupt State Deparment. Some of Ike's rapturous but illogical advocates insist that Hoffman and a number of gyp-joint and television trash in New York just latched onto the general and bear no genuine credentials from him. I hope this is true but it is up to Ike to delouse himself. If he thinks this would cost him votes, he should weigh such possible loss against the votes that he certainly will not get from real Republicans who will have no truck with a candidate satisfactory to the scalawag Republicans and New Dealers in his present following.

There are many other Americans in my gloomy condition. I have had a large mail from conservative Republicans who have seen the development of a dominant Socialist influence in our party. I note that the southern Democrats who were so full of fire a few weeks ago curled up and quit to the Marxist Yankees after Chicago. The true Republicans and the few genuine Democrats of the southern tier need a new party to represent us, but we all realize that this is not the year for it. We are sunk save only the puny possibility that Ike will do right by us.

Russell, Byrd and Byrnes have been a sorry lot in the crisis and, as usual, funked it in a depressing surrender to the union racket and New York letterhead societies more European than American. Had these honeysuckle statesmen walked out with the Dixiecrats in 1948 they would have brought the decision four years closer. But they were short on principle and courage and they confirmed this lack again beyond any hope this summer.

Stevenson was a minor lightweight bureaucrat in the circle of playboys and females who had such a wonderful time in Washington during the war. He left no record of performance or character and in giving Harry Truman the foot he made no obeisance to morals or principle. He only put his little back-room character in his place so that if he should win, he would owe Truman nothing. On matters of embezzlement, fraud and the dissolution of the constitution through the civil rights scheme, Stevenson has been silent. He picked Wilson Wyatt out of the Marxist movement called Americans for Democratic Action to handle his campaign. And Senator Russell, who was howling melodious meows against these heresies back in May, came into camp on a nose-ring as I had the morose wisdom to predict he would at the time.

The Socialists in the Republican party offset the Democrats of Republican tendencies in the Democratic party. Dewey, Ives, Smith of Maine, Lodge and Saltonstall of Massachusetts and any Republican in Connecticut that you care to name except Vivien Kellems, are positive, aggressive anti-Republicans even though they are listed as Republicans. Remembering that when the Marxists started Ada they said it would infest both parties, we may see in the conduct of these mock-Republicans the unfolding of a scheme to dissolve both parties into weak, confused herds. On the other hand, Russell, Byrd and Byrnes have no value to the constitutional Republican minority.

I am suspicious of candidates who come out four-square against "bigotry" as Ike did the other day and insist that they will try to keep "personalities" out of the campaign. Just what "bigotry" does Ike refer to and if it is that bad why doesn't he tell us the details?

I know of no important bigotry except against pro-American anti-Communists and I am sure Ike didn't have us in mind. Who are

KINGSTON DAYS

Friday and Saturday of this week Kingston merchants will offer the public an unusual opportunity to purchase reliable merchandise at big savings. The special sales offerings by the local merchants are unique in that they pass on to the consumer savings on seasonal and reliable goods which the family needs.

The local merchants, who are the purchasing agents for the consumers in this trading area, have stocked quality merchandise at very attractive prices, which they will offer the public. The Summer sales have been reported as unusually good and many stores have very little merchandise remaining in Summer stocks. This will result in a large amount of Fall goods being offered the public.

Twice a year the Kingston merchants offer genuine bargains at Kingston Days and they are looked forward to by wise shoppers. This pre-Fall sale is expected to attract a record crowd of shoppers not only from Kingston and Ulster County but also from the surrounding area.

Regular store hours will be in effect on both Friday and Saturday. The stores will remain open until 9 o'clock in the evening on Friday and close at 5 o'clock on Saturday.

SEVEN YEARS LATER

Seven years ago, on August 14, 1945, the global conflict of World War II came to an end with the surrender of the Japanese empire.

On that eventful V-J day American rejoicing was mingled with the hope, shared by all mankind, that the world would settle down to lasting peace.

Our hopes were shortlived, unfortunately. As the Axis powers disappeared from the scene, the aggressive forces of communism became eager for expansion. America's overtures for a peaceful solution of world problems were treated with contempt.

From 1945 to 1950 the world was in a state of tension which increased with each aggressive act of the communist world. Then in the summer of 1950 the communists made their boldest move. They marched into South Korea in clear violation of earlier pacts and promises.

The hostilities in Korea go on, even while our efforts for peace continue. But so far the communist aggressors show no sincerity or real desire for a peaceful solution as the truce talks go on.

Although we keep the door wide open for much-hoped for peace, America has been learning an important lesson—that to insure peace, we must be strong. Thus, seven years after V-J Day, America has built up and continues to build up its armed strength.

To keep America's defense strong, our economy must be strong, too. And that's where every American can help substantially . . . by buying United States Defense Bonds. Every bond bought helps to keep America's economic power as strong as our fighting forces are keeping her military power.

The stronger our nation is, the greater is the possibility that by the time the next V-J anniversary arrives, we will have the real peace we all ardently strive for.

EX-NEW DEALER

A name familiar to the country but not in the ranks of Utah Republicans, is Marriner S. Eccles, candidate for the party's nomination for senator. Eccles, a banker, served Presidents Roosevelt and Truman as chairman of the federal reserve board. He is one of the highest placed former Democratic officials to split with his party. Only Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, who has been justice of the Supreme Court and secretary of state, besides holding various important posts during the war, can compare with him.

Eccles disagreed on board policies with President Truman, and was demoted from his chairmanship. His recent book of memoirs, setting forth his disagreements on technical banking matters, is unlike the writings of many former members of New Deal administrations. Most of those who fell out with either President Roosevelt or President Truman display great bitterness over the break.

Eccles faces Senator Arthur V. Watkins in the September 9 primaries. As Watkins is one of the more conservative senators, the line will be clearly drawn between him and the liberal Eccles.

MORE EXCEPTIONS

Congress passed and the President approved the following law:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That, under such terms and conditions as he shall determine, the President is hereby authorized to extend, or to enter into an agreement extending, to the representatives of member states (other than the United States) on the Council of the Organization of American States, and to members of their staffs, the same privileges and immunities, subject to corresponding conditions and obligations, as are enjoyed by diplomatic envoys accredited to the United States."

Nobody seems to bother about such matters any more, but here is an additional group of aliens who are given privileges in the United States which American citizens do not enjoy. Everybody connected with the United Nations, down to the chauffeurs of the underlings, enjoys the privilege of extraterritoriality.

One day last winter, I was coming out of a restaurant in Rockefeller Center, when I saw a policeman politely, almost deferentially, telling the chauffeur of one of those UN cars to move out of a space where no one is permitted to park. The chauffeur resisted the suggestion, insisted upon his privileges, but as a crowd had gathered, he finally thought of the effects of public opinion on his country which was undoubtedly getting a subsidy from us on one pretext or another.

I asked the harried policeman why he did not tell the so and so to get the hell out of there as he would do to any American under similar or the same circumstances. He answered that it would result in a diplomatic crisis with the State Department writing a formal note to the Mayor of New York.

Extraterritoriality is a courtesy reserved for diplomats with the object of freeing them from restraints by the country to which they have been delegated. It is a privilege which is nearly always abused. From the diplomat, as a person, it has been extended to his household and to his office staff and to those who service them. Its extension has been abused by some countries giving diplomatic passports to those who have no right to them, including spies.

It is true that just as the United States grants extraterritorial privileges to foreign diplomats, so they are granted to our representatives abroad. The difference, however, is that many or even most of the international organizations, such as the United Nations, are now situated in the United States and there are therefore too many persons in this country who enjoy extraterritorial privileges. In New York, the United Nations people get a special license plate with UN on it to warn anyone not to get into trouble with the driver of that car as he need pay no damages, need carry no insurance and cannot be arrested.

This is an extension of extraterritorial privileges beyond wisdom or necessity. I lived under extraterritorial conditions for nearly 14 years and can witness that consular officers of some European and Central and South American countries sold passports and extraterritorial privileges. There was a law firm in Shanghai that specialized in this business and very profitably.

I knew in Shanghai the Chinese who specialized in the opium trade and they always were able to have the protection of persons enjoying extraterritorial privileges. The system was so scandalous, its abuse so notorious that it became one of the principal objects of an anti-foreign movement and was finally abolished in a series of new treaties negotiated with Chiang Kai-shek's government.

When only a few responsible persons enjoyed extraterritorial privileges, the abuses were likely to be unimportant. But when the system is extended wholesale to include chauffeurs and cooks and office-boys, the degree of responsibility must be lessened.

Someday, there will be a murder or a dope-peddling case, or the smuggling of jewels in diplomatic pouches for private sale—and then the fat will be in the fire.

Meanwhile, would it not be smarter for a Congressional committee to study extraterritoriality in the United States, how it operates, who is privileged to enjoy it, how it applies to our traffic laws, to the payment of personal bills, and the dangers of abuse? Then let there be a full report on the subject so that the American people might know just what we have been let in for.

GOITER—OVERACTIVE THYROID GLAND

I have written before of a physician friend who came into my office, sat down, and asked me to take his pulse rate. His heart was beating a steady 72 beats to the minute (normal). He stated that he had just walked from his office, three blocks away. As his heart rate had been much higher (over 100 to the minute) on previous occasions, he calmly explained that he had just come out of the hospital the day before after having his thyroid gland removed (operation for goiter). We were both pleased at the immediate satisfactory results obtained by operation.

Other methods of removing goiter, particularly X-ray treatments, give satisfactory results but it takes about an average of nine months to complete the cure. There are, of course, some cases of exophthalmic goiter in which operation is not advisable.

Some idea of the satisfactory and immediate results obtained by surgical removal of the thyroid gland—thyroidectomy—may be obtained in a report by Dr. M. P. Kelsey in Postgraduate Medicine. "Thyroidectomy is still the method of choice for patients with uncomplicated hyperthyroidism (overactive thyroid gland-goiter). Operation is the only one with a proved record of long-term, high success and it still has the best record for immediate results. The disease is readily controlled; the patient is in the hospital four to six days and returns to work in two to four weeks. There are few complications and there is a minimum (very small amount) of following treatment after the operation."

While iodine is always helpful in the treatment of goiter, it rarely cures and is used as a supplementary agent in treating hyperthyroidism. After operation, iodine is useful to protect against recurrence of hyperthyroidism in the toxic or poisonous type of goiter.

"Radio-iodine controls hyperthyroidism in a manner similar to X-ray treatment but larger dose may be given by radio-iodine. Radio-iodine is most useful in patients who are poor surgical risks. In rapid heart beat, trembling — surgical removal is complicated exophthalmic goiter — bulging eyes, the method of choice or prolonged medical management if radio-iodine is not available and surgery is too risky," says Dr. Kelsey.

When the family physician advises that the thyroid gland be removed, he takes into consideration the above facts and is in the best position to advise the form of treatment in any particular case.

Benevolence Sure Is a Screwy Business

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—When "Big Chief" Eisenhower promised "full justice" to New Mexican Indians this week, he probably didn't know that increased defense demands for timber, oil and uranium have quadrupled the value of Indian land in the past decade and that, as a result, "lo the poor Indian" has become very much worth plucking.

This column in March, 1948, exposed the manner in which the Vanadium Corporation was haggling over the payment of royalties to the Navajos. Latest development in restoring "full justice" to the Indians in the manner in which a group of lawyers is scrambling to represent them.

Indian tribes have now been permitted to file millions of dollars worth of claims against the federal government, with the result that legal representation of the Indians can be extremely profitable. Ernest Wilkinson, for instance, recently was awarded a $3,000,000 fee for prosecuting Indian claims against Uncle Sam.

One of the most interesting Indian lawyers is James E. Curry, who was on the way to having a near monopoly of Indian legal practice—a total of 41 contracts with 36 different tribes or groups.

Curry is general counsel of the National Congress of American Indians, also represents such diverse and scattered Indian groups as the Standing Rock Sioux, the White Mountain Apaches, Yavapi Apaches, Sitka Community Association, Salt River-Pima-Maricopa Indians, Colorado River Indians, Fort Peck Indians, Fort McDowell Paiute Shoshones, the Moapa Band of Paiutes, the Walker River Paiutes, the Yerlington Paiutes, the Caddo Tribe of Oklahoma, the Reno-Sparks Indians, the Tlingit and Haida Indians, with various others.

Downtrodden Red Man

Part of the technique of representing the Indians is to make it appear they are abused, downtrodden, and unfairly dealt with by Uncle Sam.

Actually, the Interior Department's Indian Bureau is now doing its best to get the government out of the Indian business. Despite this, certain Indian lawyers continually raise the cry of government persecution.

The Indian law business has become so profitable that it was recently investigated by a Senate subcommittee under Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico. Among other things, it heard testimony that Indian lawyer Curry had harangued a meeting of Alaskan Indians, cursing the white man and urging that they take legal steps against the government — presumably through Curry.

"In the course of his speech," testified Governor Gruening of Alaska before the committee, "he made a number of statements which rather surprised me. He said, 'this land (Alaska) was all yours,' meaning it belonged to the Indians. 'These lands have been stolen from you, and anything the white man gets is just so much by the grace of your kindness.'"

Governor Gruening testified that later that evening he had encountered Curry and remarked:

"This line that you propagate, that this land has been stolen from the Indians—you know that is bunk, don't you?"

"Yes," Curry replied, "but that's a good line and gets the sob sisters in the east."

Lawyers' Propaganda

Contracts between Indian tribes and the lawyers must be okayed by the commission of Indian affairs. This has caused constant conflict between Curry and Indian Commissioner Dillon Myer, which some observers think is the reason for the bitter attacks on Myer.

For instance, Commissioner Myer, in reviewing Curry's legal contracts, found that his fee for one Alaskan tribe was twice the amount of the tribe's annual income. Shortly after Myer began to ask questions about Curry's contracts, the National Congress of American Indians, of which Curry is legal counsel, launched its attack "to protect the Indians' civil rights."

In the forefront of the attack on the Indian bureau has been the Association on American Indian Affairs, whose general counsel is Felix Cohen, a former high official of the Interior Department. Cohen is also a partner in a syndicate seeking more than $4,000,000,000 in Indian claims against the government which Cohen once represented.

It may or may not be significant, but at the time Commissioner Myer began to scrutinize carefully the contracts of lawyers representing Indians, Washington began to be flooded with letters of protest, urging that the government let the Indians hire their own lawyers without any government supervision.

One of the gripes which the Senate Investigating Committee heard was that lawyer Curry, when retained as general counsel of the National Congress of American Indians, agreed to give free legal aid to poorer tribes. But when the Pyramid Lake tribe of Nevada appealed to the Congress of American Indians for free legal aid, they were confronted by a contract, naming Curry as their attorney at $3,000 annually plus expenses. The fee was finally reduced at $1,500.

"This free-legal-aid bait," William Fire Thunder, a full-blooded Sioux leader, told the senators, "was held out to the various tribes, including the Alaskan tribe, for the purpose of enticing membership in the Congress of American Indians and later feathering the nest of one James E. Curry."

One of Curry's supporters is Ruth Muskrat Bronson, former executive secretary of the Congress of American Indians, who according to Senate testimony, helped to throw legal contracts into Curry's lap.

How the propaganda barrage to help the downtrodden Indian is turned on through well-meaning Indian protection groups was indicated by the testimony of Roy Mobley, a former partner of Curry.

"I walked into Mr. Curry's office," said Mobley. "He was talking on the telephone. When he got through he hung up and said, 'that was one of my women friends.'"

Senator Anderson objected. "Does that have any relationship to this case?"

"I think so," Mobley replied. "Curry said 'I've got an organization of mean women in Washington.' He said that they were so placed around over the city that they could spread any kind of information or rumor he asked them to within a short time, and carry out any propaganda assignment that he gave them."

Surprise Is in Store for Those Who See No Difference in Viewpoint

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 14—Those folks who have been assuming all along that there would be no "difference" of viewpoint between General Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson on foreign policy and that there might not be so much difference between their speeches even on domestic policies are in for a surprise.

Judging by the latest pronouncement of General Eisenhower, which has been referred to in the press already as the strongest words he has used thus far in attacking the Truman administration, the Republican nominee is apparently going to pitch his campaign on a basis which will differentiate him considerably from the Democratic nominee. The key is to be found in one paragraph of the comment on the Truman-Stevenson meeting which General Eisenhower made:

"The American people want a change, not just for the sake of change. They want more than a change of names and faces. They want a change in order to replace corruption with honesty; reckless spending with economy; inflation with economic stability; mismanagement in foreign affairs with clear-cut policies and programs for positive peace; brazen assertions of 'inherent power' with constitutional government, both in spirit and deed."

There in a nutshell is the whole theme of the Eisenhower campaign, for in each phrase is an issue of major importance.

Certainly "mismanagement in foreign affairs" is far from asserting an agreement with the administration's foreign policy. Also, "clear-cut policies and programs for positive peace" indicates plainly a dissent from State Department policies and programs, however much Eisenhower might concur in the general objective of cooperation with other nations which are our allies.

Presumably the Republican nominee will elucidate his viewpoint in campaign speeches but any idea that he will not be severely critical of the administration's foreign policy—something the Democrats keep harping on as logical—is really wishful thinking. For the same General Eisenhower also said in his statement that the meeting in Washington of the President and Governor Stevenson "signified that the present administration is determined to nail down, through its hand-picked successors, every detail of the doctrines and policies that have brought us to the present situation of bewilderment, indecision and fear for the future."

These words are such a definite turn toward the tactics of attack that one suspects the general might have been waiting for the opportunity which the Stevenson-Truman meeting gave him to open fire on the administration.

Nor is the point which General Eisenhower made concerning the presence of military officials at the Truman-Stevenson meeting likely to be dropped, even though there were reports on Capitol Hill today that President Truman planned to invite the general to come to the White House to get the same "briefing" from the officers who discussed the international situation with Governor Stevenson.

Just what purpose was served by bringing in security officers to the political conference is not clear, anyway. If General Eisenhower comes here for a similar "briefing," he not only will relieve Mr. Truman and Mr. Stevenson from an embarrassing situation but he will become involved himself in a form of restraint which it would be most unwise to impose on any candidate in a campaign.

The assumption that neither nominee is able without military "briefing" to discuss the international policies of the United States is one that was not born in the mind of any supercautious diplomat but rather in the artifices of political strategy. The truth is some Democrats here were afraid that a meeting between Stevenson and Truman would be construed as an obvious tieing together of the policies of the Truman administration with the campaign of the nominee, so the military uniforms were introduced as a bit of camouflage.

If there are any confidential facts on foreign policy that a presidential nominee should know, they ought not to be conveyed to him by the government, as he is a private citizen. The information should go first to Republican and Democratic members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who all along are supposed to have been in the confidence of the government. On its face, a half-hour's "briefing" cannot have been seriously intended as a background talk on all the delicate aspects of our foreign relations. So the conclusion is obvious that it was a device to overcome criticism and it turned out to be the subject of criticism itself. This will not be removed by an invitation to General Eisenhower to compound the mistake by participating in any quasi-military consultations aimed at guiding his campaign.

$50,000 Bail Is Set on Two Held In Morals Probe

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—A man and wife were held in $50,000 bail each yesterday as material witnesses for a grand jury probing prostitution in New York city.

The grand jury investigation dates from a February raid on a hotel near Times Square which netted a number of teen-aged prostitutes.

Held in bail were Miles (Lucky) Leslie, 42, and his bride of five months, Kathleen, 26. No criminal charge was placed against them.

Assistant District Attorney Anthony Liebler said he had information that Mrs. Leslie was a prostitute and that her husband once served a federal prison term for violating the Mann Act—a law against transporting women across state lines for immoral purposes.

After 'Central Figure'

Liebler said the vice probe was aimed at uncovering "some central figure" or possible syndicate controlling prostitution here.

"We are not concerned with the $2 street walker variety, but with prostitution as controlled and practiced in various hotes and houses of prostitution under so-called pimps and procurers," Liebler said, adding:

"Some call house girls are paid as high as $300 for one operation."

Liebler said that Leslie was shot last November in what the prosecutor described as "an offshoot of prostitution."

He said neither Leslie nor his wife would talk about the shooting, which took place in his wife-to-be's apartment and involved another woman.

Although without any apparent means of support, Liebler said, the Leslies own an expensive auto and live in a $300-a-month apartment off Central Park.

Two Infants Fall From Windows, One Is Dead

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—A baby boy died last night, five hours after falling 14 stories from a window. Another infant was in fair condition after a three-story fall.

The dead child was 17-month-old John Robinson, Jr., Negro. The baby, escaping the notice of his mother, crawled onto a small bench, then onto a radiator, and toppled from the apartment window. Bushes broke his fall.

Reported in fair condition was Ismael Bosche, one-year-old, who toppled over the windowsill of a fifth floor apartment and landed on a two-story adjoining building. The child suffered multiple bruises but apparently no broken bones.

Grain-Storage Expansion

Ankara, Turkey (AP)—A program for enlarging and modernizing Turkey's grain storage and transport facilities, the first step in increasing the country's foreign exchange earnings through grain exports, has been announced here by M. L. Dayton, chief of the Mutual Security Agency's special economic mission to Turkey. He said part of the plan calls for expenditure of $2,500,000 in MSA funds to buy about 500 portable steel grain hangars.

Baby Born on Plane, Girl, Mother Are Well

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—A Pan American World Airways plane landed here today with an unexpected passenger—a newborn baby girl.

The baby was born to Mrs. Lidia Serpa, about 32, of Manhattan. She gave birth unassisted in the washroom of the plane en route from Puerto Rico to Idlewild Airport.

The plane's captain, Jack Harvey, said he thought Stewardess Barbara Jirom was joking when she told him a passenger was having a baby.

Mrs. Serpa had not expected the stork for a couple of months. The baby, weighing about six pounds, and the mother were reported in good condition.

Harvey lives at 110-45 Queens Boulevard, Forest Hills, Queens. Miss Jirom resides at 90-10 180th street, Jamaica, Queens.

Mrs. Serpa and her baby were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Far Rockaway, Queens.

As Pegler Sees It

these bigots and who are the victims? If Ike doesn't know, he should drop the subject. If he is afraid to handle the facts, that fear ill-becomes a gallant officer.

The man who won't deal in "personalities" isn't genteel; he is afraid. There is a great mine of pay-dirt in the personal conduct of Harry S. Truman. Chicago was seething with "personality" stuff about Stevenson which may have been circulatd in malice by other Democrats who know him.

We are hell-bent for socialism because both candidates are captives of forces which they haven't the power, if they have the will, to resist. I hear that if Ike is elected he will rear back and turn Republican. I don"t expect it. Senator Taft is our rearguard and he is sick at heart. If he ever agrees to forgive and forget, he will earn the contempt of all who had faith in him.

$50,000 Bail Is Set on Two Held In Morals Probe

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—A man and wife were held in $50,000 bail each yesterday as material witnesses for a grand jury probing prostitution in New York city.

The grand jury investigation dates from a February raid on a hotel near Times Square which netted a number of teen-aged prostitutes.

Held in bail were Miles (Lucky) Leslie, 42, and his bride of five months, Kathleen, 26. No criminal charge was placed against them.

Assistant District Attorney Anthony Liebler said he had information that Mrs. Leslie was a prostitute and that her husband once served a federal prison term for violating the Mann Act—a law against transporting women across state lines for immoral purposes.

After 'Central Figure'

Liebler said the vice probe was aimed at uncovering "some central figure" or possible syndicate controlling prostitution here.

"We are not concerned with the $2 street walker variety, but with prostitution as controlled and practiced in various hotes and houses of prostitution under so-called pimps and procurers," Liebler said, adding:

"Some call house girls are paid as high as $300 for one operation."

Liebler said that Leslie was shot last November in what the prosecutor described as "an offshoot of prostitution."

He said neither Leslie nor his wife would talk about the shooting, which took place in his wife-to-be's apartment and involved another woman.

Although without any apparent means of support, Liebler said, the Leslies own an expensive auto and live in a $300-a-month apartment off Central Park.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Dodger Star Shows His Bridge Skill

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Just about two months ago Carl Erskine of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched a no-hit game against the Chicago Cubs. This, curiously enough, was news for this column.

You see, it rained at the end of the third inning, and the game was held up. So Erskine went to the clubhouse to relax until the game could be resumed. What else would he do there but play bridge?

I don't know whether or not Carl is as good at bridge as he is at pitching, but one of the hands he played, shown here today, would stand up in any big league bridge game.

Erskine and Billy Cox got to four hearts against Ralph Branca and Duke Snider. Branca led the singleton diamond, and Erskine won with the ace.

What next? Erskine could count five trump tricks, two diamonds, and two black aces. Where was the tenth trick?

Branca's spade bid indicated that both the spade and the club finesse would fail. The opening lead looked like a singleton. A pretty grim situation, but Erskine pitched his way out of it very neatly.

He drew three rounds of trumps, and then laid down the ace and queen of spades.

Branca won with the king of spades, naturally, but was then up a tree. If he continued spades, dummy's ten would set up; and if he shifted to clubs, Erskine would get a free finesse.

Erskine was so pleased with this hand that he went right out on the field, a minute or so later, and pitched no-hit ball for the next six innings.

Now, I wonder what was going on in the Chicago clubhouse while Erskine and his buddies were getting ready for a no-hit performance by playing bridge? D'you suppose the Cubs were playing Canasta?

PITTER-PATTER MUSIC—Torrential summer rains in Korea fail to dampen the enthusiasm of the Royal Canadian 22nd Regimental Band. Sheltered by a tarpaulin, they play right along, and the conductor dons a poncho as he directs with fluid grace.

Large Committee Arranges Picnic

Indications are that Sunday's picnic for the benefit of St. Ann's Church will be one of the most outstanding ever held in Sawkill, it was announced at a meeting of the committee on arrangements last night.

It was stressed at the session, which filled the parish hall, that there will be a full program of entertainment for those of all ages who attend. The picnic will go on rain or shine, the committee chairman said.

Buses for the convenience of Kingston friends of the parish will leave the central post office at 1:30 and 2:30 p. m. and the Crown street terminal at 1:45 and 2:45 p. m. Return trips will be made from the church grounds at 5 and 7 p. m.

The picnic will open at 4 and conclude at 9 p. m.

Haymes Can't Leave Until U. S. Is Paid

Hollywood, Aug. 14 (AP) — Argentina-born singer Dick Haymes is behind in his income tax payments and won't be able to leave the United States for a personal appearance tour in England, his press agent says.

"Dick has been paying up on back taxes for about two years," the agent said yesterday. "He was scheduled to begin a tour in England Sept. 14 but the internal revenue authorities have said no to his leaving the country. He expects to clear up the tax matters so that he can make the visit to England about the first of next year."

The internal revenue office here said Haymes was in arrears $25,000. Neither Haymes nor his attorney could be reached for comment.

The revenue office said any alien resident owing money to the government may not leave the country without permission. Haymes' agent said he has taken out naturalization papers but is not yet a citizen. Haymes first came to this country when he was 2.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Dodger Star Shows His Bridge Skill

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Just about two months ago Carl Erskine of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched a no-hit game against the Chicago Cubs. This, curiously enough, was news for this column.

You see, it rained at the end of the third inning, and the game was held up. So Erskine went to the clubhouse to relax until the game could be resumed. What else would he do there but play bridge?

I don't know whether or not Carl is as good at bridge as he is at pitching, but one of the hands he played, shown here today, would stand up in any big league bridge game.

Erskine and Billy Cox got to four hearts against Ralph Branca and Duke Snider. Branca led the singleton diamond, and Erskine won with the ace.

What next? Erskine could count five trump tricks, two diamonds, and two black aces. Where was the tenth trick?

Branca's spade bid indicated that both the spade and the club finesse would fail. The opening lead looked like a singleton. A pretty grim situation, but Erskine pitched his way out of it very neatly.

He drew three rounds of trumps, and then laid down the ace and queen of spades.

Branca won with the king of spades, naturally, but was then up a tree. If he continued spades, dummy's ten would set up; and if he shifted to clubs, Erskine would get a free finesse.

Erskine was so pleased with this hand that he went right out on the field, a minute or so later, and pitched no-hit ball for the next six innings.

Now, I wonder what was going on in the Chicago clubhouse while Erskine and his buddies were getting ready for a no-hit performance by playing bridge? D'you suppose the Cubs were playing Canasta?

PITTER-PATTER MUSIC—Torrential summer rains in Korea fail to dampen the enthusiasm of the Royal Canadian 22nd Regimental Band. Sheltered by a tarpaulin, they play right along, and the conductor dons a poncho as he directs with fluid grace.

The defendant acknowledged that he hadn't spoken to his wife in five years, and the judge put in a question.
Judge—What explanation have you?
Husband—Your Honor, I didn't like to interrupt her.

Teacher—Johnny, you must not say "I ain't going." You should say instead "I am not going," "We are not going," "They are not going."
Johnny—Ain't nobody going?

Wife—My husband loves babies.

Eisenhower Says

am also grateful for your luncheon invitation.

"In my current position as standard bearer of the Republican party and of other Americans who want to bring about a change in the national government, it is my duty to remain free to analyze publicly the policies and acts of the administration whenever it appears to me to be proper and in the country's interest.

"During the present period the people are deciding our country's leadership for the next four years. The decision rests between the Republican nominee and the candidate you and your cabinet are supporting, and with whom you conferred before sending your message.

"In such circumstances and in such a period I believe our communications should be only those which are known to all the American people. Consequently, I think it would be unwise and result in confusion in the public mind if I were to attend the meeting in the White House to which you have invited me."

Would Change Decision

Eisenhower then said he would change his decision instantly if a grave emergency should arise, but added that Truman had not indicated any current crisis.

In his statement Tuesday, Eisenhower said the President and his cabinet "obviously want the people to know that the nominee of the Democratic convention is subservient to the political forces which have too long been in power in our country."

Among those who briefed Stevenson were Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and Walter Bedell Smith, chief of the hush-hush central intelligence agency.

The general said presence of military and national security personnel at the meeting "implied a decision to involve responsible non-political officers of our government, who bear heavy responsibilities in our national defense organization, into a political campaign in which they have no part."

And, said Eisenhower, the meeting raised "the disturbing question * * * as to whether the President and his cabinet can possibly contemplate using resources of the federal government to influence the judgment of the voters of the United States during this campaign."

Denounces Stevenson

Sen. Richard M. Nixon, Eisenhower's vice presidential running mate, also has denounced the Stevenson meeting with Truman and key administration officials. Nixon said it meant Stevenson was "part and parcel of the Truman gang," and he called the session a fatal campaign mistake which would defeat the Democratic nominee.

Eisenhower said in a brief foreign policy statement yesterday that "a true program for peace for the United States must include as one of its peaceful aims the restoration to the captive nations of Europe the right, freely and honestly, to determine their own fate and their own form of government. Similarly, the same right must be achieved by the captive nations of Asia."

The general's foreign policy statement was issued after a conference with Rep. Charles J. Kersten of Wisconsin. James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said the general meant this nation must "give some hope to those people behind the Iron Curtain that they one day will be free."

Stevenson Teams

carry the main burden of the attack against the Republicans.

The general plan resolved any conflict between Stevenson and the President over speaking dates.

Campaign strategy, speaking dates and itinerary are expected to take shape within the next 10 days after Stevenson's special strategy board meets here this weekend.

This "brain trust" of nine party chiefs also will act as an advisory link between Stevenson's personal campaign headquarters and the Democratic National Committee headed by Stephen A. Mitchell of Chicago.

During the day, Stevenson was to huddle with Barkley and also with Paul Fitzpatrick, New York Democratic state chairman, to discuss future plans.

Out of the Fitzpatrick meeting may come an agreement for Stevenson to speak to the New York state Democratic Convention Aug. 28. This would be the day following Stevenson's scheduled address before the American Legion in New York city, a speech which the governor's aides say will "not be political."

Stevenson's press secretary, William I. Flanagan, has said Stevenson will make a "whistle stop" campaign through the country this fall. Truman, it is reported, is expected to make a "variety of speeches."

White House aides in Washington have said that Truman's part in the campaign will not approach the 358-speech drive he made in 1948—that he possibly will limit his appearances to a half-dozen speeches in key areas.

Hygiene Council

from a New York State institution.

Peakes had been under treatment in federal institutions.

Dr. Bigelow said Peakes' "case would not have come to a parole conference."

A three-member parole committee must investigate each application for release from New York institutions of inmates with records of sex offenses, arson, serious assaults, hallucinations of delusions, Dr. Bigelow explained.

De Angelis said the council's study would comprise:

1. A statistical analysis of case records to determine the current proportion of crime among released mental patients, as compared with crime in the general population.

2. An evaluation of procedures, to be based on observation in hospitals.

3. A comprehensive study of the laws and rules governing releases. The council will meet here again Sept. 23.

New Jersey Pair Held on Charges

Catskill, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP) — State Trooper John Keating said today a New Jersey man and woman had been arrested on robbery charges in connection with a highway hold-up of a Poughkeepsie man on Aug. 4.

Keating identified them as George Gulyas, 28, of 4 Sidney avenue, Rutherford, and Miss Ida Mae Van Loan, 23, of 26 Pennington avenue, Passaic. He said they were picked up in New Jersey yesterday.

Melvin A. Delamater, 55, operator of a Poughkeepsie trailer park, reported that an automobile forced his car to the side of the road between Catskill and Coxsackie. He said its occupants stripped him, and robbed him of $695 in cash and a $400 wristwatch.

He said he was returning at the time to Poughkeepsie following a vacation at Lake George.

Keating said investigation indicated that Miss Van Loan had met Delamater prior to the robbery.

Police said Miss Van Loan and George Gulyas were arraigned on first-degree robbery charges last night. They were committed to Greene county jail after they had waived examination and were ordered held for action by the grand jury.

State police said the woman returned to Passaic and shortly after Aug. 4 posed as an amnesia victim.

Stream of Endless Goonies Nightmare to Wounded Marine

Western Front, Korea, Aug. 14 (AP) — The wounded marine screamed:

"They're all dead, but we've got to them! We can't leave those guys for the goonies!"

The husky leatherneck almost lunged out of the upper berth on the hospital train. Two doctors and two litter bearers struggled to keep the writhing body down on the sheets.

The other wounded men were silent. The scream, the scuffling and the doctor's patient words were the only sounds in the steaming car.

"Where's my helmet?" the marine yelled, swinging his arms wildly at the doctors. "We can't let the goonies get them."

He was using the marine nickname for Chinese soldiers.

"Let's go kill those goonies!" he yelled, crying. "We'll choke them to death!"

The marine called out a buddy's name. An unshaved, skinny tough with a shattered foot looked up from a lower berth.

"I'm right here. Now calm down," he said.

But the husky marine kept calling the name.

The marine with the bad foot eased out of his berth and hopped over to the upper bunk. The husky marine kept crying. He couldn't recognize his buddy.

Can Take Just So Much

Four bunks away, a pair of blue eyes looked up. "You can take just so much," this marine said. He was 19 years old. He couldn't keep still, his leg, peppered with grenade fragments, was throbbing.

Above this boy lay a marine whose head was covered with white bandages. Small holes were left for his eyes, nose and mouth.

Across the aisles, another marine moaned softly. Blood soaked the bandages wrapped about both hands, horribly mangled by mortar fragments. A bandage had slipped off a gaping wound in his neck.

Nearby, a marine lay on his stomach, naked. He was burned red from feet to waist.

The wounded men had fought on Bunker Hill, the dusty ridge four miles east of the truce-talk village of Panmunjom. They came by helicopter and ambulance to a tent hospital behind the battlefront, then moved by hospital train to larger, better-equipped hospitals in the rear.

Steady Flow of Wounded

Four days and four nights the flow of wounded has poured down from Bunker Hill. Lt. (jg) Edgar Hansen, a navy doctor from Mansfield, Wash., said one doctor hadn't slept once in those four days. Others have worked steadily for 48 hours. Another doctor, Lt. (jg) Reginald B. Henry, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., told the same story.

On the train, the 19-year-old marine fidgeted on his bunk. His eyes were bleary from pain, nightmarish fighting, and lack of sleep. The boy said he and his buddy were manning a machine gun on Bunker Hill when a battalion of Chinese struck.

Came From Everywhere

"About 20 goonies ran towards us. We shot down a lot of them. But those goonies were all around. We knocked them down, and more kept right on coming.

"One gooney sneaked up behind us and jumped in our trench. But he landed on his own grenade. It blew him to bits. Some pieces hit my leg.

"I kept on firing, but everywhere you looked goonies were coming down on you. It was awful."

He fought through the night. When the fighting stopped, the 19-year-old crawled down the hill to an aid station. He and his buddy both had been wounded.

Twelve of the Council's 16 business agents were present at the meeting which was held in the Council office at 277 Fair street. The Council comprises AFL unions in Ulster and Sullivan counties engaged in the building and construction industries.

Silence Kills Case

Lurs, France, Aug. 14 (AP)—A conspiracy of silence among the people of this southern France mountain region has hamstrung the solving of the Drummond murder case, Police Commissioner Edmond Sebeille said today. Sebeille's statement followed 10 days of fruitless searching for the killer who shot British food expert Sir Jack Drummond, his wife Lady Drummond, and smashed in the skull of their 11-year-old daughter, Elizabeth. "I'm convinced I know the assassin. I am almost certain to have questioned him, but I haven't been able to trip him up in his declarations," said Sebeille.

Tunnel Fire Reported

San Francisco, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Western Pacific Railroad said a freak fire burned out of control today in one of its mainline tunnels in the High Sierra. Through train service may be disrupted for two or three days, the railroad said. The blaze broke out about midnight in the timbers of Tunnel No. 9 in the Feather River Canyon, 35 miles east of Oroville, Calif., officials at the line's headquarters said. It was touched off by sparks from a steam derrick working to clear the line of an 11-car freight derailment which occurred early Tuesday in the tunnel.

Uranium Is Found

Darwin, Australia, Aug. 14 (AP)—Northern Territory Administrator F. J. Wise announced today that a "very important" uranium deposit has been found in north Australia, 190 miles south of here. Three Darwin prospectors, he said, stumbled on the atom-bomb ore 130 miles south of the Rum Jungle Uranium Field, Australia's largest known deposit. The first 100 tons of uranium ore from the big Rum Jungle field were shipped two months ago, presumably to the United States.

Killed While Celebrating

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—a young soldier celebrating his safe return from the Korean battlefields was killed in an automobile accident early today. Sgt. Ronald Coloma, 19, had arrived at his Brooklyn home on leave to await his discharge from army life. With friends, he went out to celebrate last night. As they were returning home, their car struck an iron pole on Flushing avenue. Coloma, riding in the back seat, died before police could extricate him from the wreckage. His two companions were injured and taken to a hospital.

Blinded Veterans Are Appealing for Peace

San Francisco, Aug. 14 (AP)—Several hundred ex-servicemen who know the cost of war in pain and darkness meet here today to launch a world-wide campaign for peace.

The veterans are spokesmen for 1,800 men who were blinded on the battlefield. All are members of the Blinded Veterans Association, which opens its seventh annual convention today.

A resolution calling on the nations of the world to agree on a means for establishing world peace tops the convention agenda. Committees already are at work drafting specific proposals aimed at easing world tension.

The blinded veterans will devote part of their three-day convention to consideration of plans for improving their own lot.

"Right now about 65 per cent of the (blinded) veterans are employed," said Lloyd H. Greenwood of Washington, the association's executive director. "We want to raise this number to at least 95 per cent."

$70,000 Is Stolen

Warren, O., Aug. 14 (AP)—Three armed men masked with burlap sacks forced the car of a Warren bank official off the road today and robbed him of about $70,000 in cash. The holdup, at 9:55 (EDT) was staged on Kenilworth Avenue, N.E., just seven blocks from Warren's main business section. Charles Foley was taking the money from the Union Savings & Trust Co.'s main building to its Woodland avenue branch, of which he is manager. Police quoted him as saying two of the men leaped out of the holdup car with a sawed off shotgun and a revolver after cutting in front of him with their auto. One smashed his car window with the shotgun butt and the pair grabbed a package which held the money, he told police.

Pleads Innocent

Monticello, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Herman Steinsaltz, 46, of [illegible] Macombs Road) the Bronx, pleaded innocent in magistrate's court today to charges of burglary, grand larceny and concealing a dangerous weapon. He was released in $15,000 bail for a hearing Aug. 21. ## Says Man Confesses

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—A police official announced today that Henry Jefferson, held in connection with the shooting of a woman, had confessed to the fatal shooting of Patrolman James McGillion. The official, who refused to be identified, said the 43-year-old Jefferson, Negro repairman, admitted the McGillion slaying after all-night questioning. McGillion was shot down early Tuesday by one of two Negroes as he tried to stop their Harlem street fight.

Eden Is Married

Churchills Attend

The 77-year-old prime minister arrived with his wife and walked slowly up the steps of the hall. Mrs. Churchill wore mauve.

None of the royal family was present. British royalty doesn't attend the weddings of divorced persons.

The prime minister smiled affectionately and approvingly as the bride and the handsome diplomat signed documents completing the civil marriage.

It was all over within five minutes.

Outside Caxton Hall the sun shone brilliantly and thousands of curious spectators created the biggest traffic jam since the marriage of Elizabeth Taylor and actor Michael Wilding in the same room a few months ago.

Bride Is Shy

The bride stood demurely beside her husband for a moment while dozens of photographers made a picture record of the scene. She seemed a bit shy and slightly frightened by the excitement. The foreign secretary, accustomed to such scenes, was debonair and poised.

He carried an "Anthony Eden" Homburg, a hat designed especially for him. He waved cheerily a number of times.

An unofficial mascot at the ceremony—some spectators said he brought good luck—was the brindle cat Hubert, which lives at Caxton Hall. Indulgent policemen saw to it that Hubert had the run of the red carpet leading into the hall and he appeared to approve the proceedings as the bridal couple emerged.

Italy Is Stronger

Other American aid to Italy has included the transfer of two destroyers, three escort vessels and 31 landing craft, the agency reported.

The marine with the bad foot eased out of his berth and hopped over to the upper bunk. The husky marine kept crying. He couldn't recognize his buddy.

Can Take Just So Much

Four bunks away, a pair of blue eyes looked up. "You can take just so much," this marine said. He was 19 years old. He couldn't keep still, his leg, peppered with grenade fragments, was throbbing.

Above this boy lay a marine whose head was covered with white bandages. Small holes were left for his eyes, nose and mouth.

Across the aisles, another marine moaned softly. Blood soaked the bandages wrapped about both hands, horribly mangled by mortar fragments. A bandage had slipped off a gaping wound in his neck.

Nearby, a marine lay on his stomach, naked. He was burned red from feet to waist.

The wounded men had fought on Bunker Hill, the dusty ridge four miles east of the truce-talk village of Panmunjom. They came by helicopter and ambulance to a tent hospital behind the battlefront, then moved by hospital train to larger, better-equipped hospitals in the rear.

Steady Flow of Wounded

Four days and four nights the flow of wounded has poured down from Bunker Hill. Lt. (jg) Edgar Hansen, a navy doctor from Mansfield, Wash., said one doctor hadn't slept once in those four days. Others have worked steadily for 48 hours. Another doctor, Lt. (jg) Reginald B. Henry, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., told the same story.

On the train, the 19-year-old marine fidgeted on his bunk. His eyes were bleary from pain, nightmarish fighting, and lack of sleep. The boy said he and his buddy were manning a machine gun on Bunker Hill when a battalion of Chinese struck.

Came From Everywhere

"About 20 goonies ran towards us. We shot down a lot of them. But those goonies were all around. We knocked them down, and more kept right on coming.

"One gooney sneaked up behind us and jumped in our trench. But he landed on his own grenade. It blew him to bits. Some pieces hit my leg.

"I kept on firing, but everywhere you looked goonies were coming down on you. It was awful."

He fought through the night. When the fighting stopped, the 19-year-old crawled down the hill to an aid station. He and his buddy both had been wounded.

Trades Council Votes To Picket Construction

Representatives of the Ulster-Sullivan Building Trades Council voted at a special meeting this morning to set up a picket line on the Rondout National Bank construction job at the corner of Henry street and Broadway "because the general contractor is non-union."

Stephen Gill, secretary-treasurer of the Council, said that the picket line would be established this afternoon.

Twelve of the Council's 16 business agents were present at the meeting which was held in the Council office at 277 Fair street. The Council comprises AFL unions in Ulster and Sullivan counties engaged in the building and construction industries.

Silence Kills Case

Lurs, France, Aug. 14 (AP)—A conspiracy of silence among the people of this southern France mountain region has hamstrung the solving of the Drummond murder case, Police Commissioner Edmond Sebeille said today. Sebeille's statement followed 10 days of fruitless searching for the killer who shot British food expert Sir Jack Drummond, his wife Lady Drummond, and smashed in the skull of their 11-year-old daughter, Elizabeth. "I'm convinced I know the assassin. I am almost certain to have questioned him, but I haven't been able to trip him up in his declarations," said Sebeille.

Tunnel Fire Reported

San Francisco, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Western Pacific Railroad said a freak fire burned out of control today in one of its mainline tunnels in the High Sierra. Through train service may be disrupted for two or three days, the railroad said. The blaze broke out about midnight in the timbers of Tunnel No. 9 in the Feather River Canyon, 35 miles east of Oroville, Calif., officials at the line's headquarters said. It was touched off by sparks from a steam derrick working to clear the line of an 11-car freight derailment which occurred early Tuesday in the tunnel.

Uranium Is Found

Darwin, Australia, Aug. 14 (AP)—Northern Territory Administrator F. J. Wise announced today that a "very important" uranium deposit has been found in north Australia, 190 miles south of here. Three Darwin prospectors, he said, stumbled on the atom-bomb ore 130 miles south of the Rum Jungle Uranium Field, Australia's largest known deposit. The first 100 tons of uranium ore from the big Rum Jungle field were shipped two months ago, presumably to the United States.

Killed While Celebrating

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—a young soldier celebrating his safe return from the Korean battlefields was killed in an automobile accident early today. Sgt. Ronald Coloma, 19, had arrived at his Brooklyn home on leave to await his discharge from army life. With friends, he went out to celebrate last night. As they were returning home, their car struck an iron pole on Flushing avenue. Coloma, riding in the back seat, died before police could extricate him from the wreckage. His two companions were injured and taken to a hospital.

Won Her Case

Derby, England, Aug. 14 (AP)—Seeking a divorce on grounds of cruelty, Bessy Chapman testified yesterday her husband tried to strangle her on her wedding day, slapped her face, took all her earnings on her first pay day after the wedding and threw a knife at her. She won the case.

Blinded Veterans Are Appealing for Peace

San Francisco, Aug. 14 (AP)—Several hundred ex-servicemen who know the cost of war in pain and darkness meet here today to launch a world-wide campaign for peace.

The veterans are spokesmen for 1,800 men who were blinded on the battlefield. All are members of the Blinded Veterans Association, which opens its seventh annual convention today.

A resolution calling on the nations of the world to agree on a means for establishing world peace tops the convention agenda. Committees already are at work drafting specific proposals aimed at easing world tension.

The blinded veterans will devote part of their three-day convention to consideration of plans for improving their own lot.

"Right now about 65 per cent of the (blinded) veterans are employed," said Lloyd H. Greenwood of Washington, the association's executive director. "We want to raise this number to at least 95 per cent."

$70,000 Is Stolen

Warren, O., Aug. 14 (AP)—Three armed men masked with burlap sacks forced the car of a Warren bank official off the road today and robbed him of about $70,000 in cash. The holdup, at 9:55 (EDT) was staged on Kenilworth Avenue, N.E., just seven blocks from Warren's main business section. Charles Foley was taking the money from the Union Savings & Trust Co.'s main building to its Woodland avenue branch, of which he is manager. Police quoted him as saying two of the men leaped out of the holdup car with a sawed off shotgun and a revolver after cutting in front of him with their auto. One smashed his car window with the shotgun butt and the pair grabbed a package which held the money, he told police.

Pleads Innocent

Monticello, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Herman Steinsaltz, 46, of [illegible] Macombs Road) the Bronx, pleaded innocent in magistrate's court today to charges of burglary, grand larceny and concealing a dangerous weapon. He was released in $15,000 bail for a hearing Aug. 21. Steinsaltz, who has a fur business at 307 Seventh avenue, New York city, was arrested Sunday and charged with taking $5,000 in furs, $2,000 worth of jewelry and $750 in cash from three rooms at a resort hotel.

Says Man Confesses

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—A police official announced today that Henry Jefferson, held in connection with the shooting of a woman, had confessed to the fatal shooting of Patrolman James McGillion. The official, who refused to be identified, said the 43-year-old Jefferson, Negro repairman, admitted the McGillion slaying after all-night questioning. McGillion was shot down early Tuesday by one of two Negroes as he tried to stop their Harlem street fight.

Eden Is Married

Churchills Attend

The 77-year-old prime minister arrived with his wife and walked slowly up the steps of the hall. Mrs. Churchill wore mauve.

None of the royal family was present. British royalty doesn't attend the weddings of divorced persons.

The prime minister smiled affectionately and approvingly as the bride and the handsome diplomat signed documents completing the civil marriage.

It was all over within five minutes.

Outside Caxton Hall the sun shone brilliantly and thousands of curious spectators created the biggest traffic jam since the marriage of Elizabeth Taylor and actor Michael Wilding in the same room a few months ago.

Bride Is Shy

The bride stood demurely beside her husband for a moment while dozens of photographers made a picture record of the scene. She seemed a bit shy and slightly frightened by the excitement. The foreign secretary, accustomed to such scenes, was debonair and poised.

He carried an "Anthony Eden" Homburg, a hat designed especially for him. He waved cheerily a number of times.

An unofficial mascot at the ceremony—some spectators said he brought good luck—was the brindle cat Hubert, which lives at Caxton Hall. Indulgent policemen saw to it that Hubert had the run of the red carpet leading into the hall and he appeared to approve the proceedings as the bridal couple emerged.

Italy Is Stronger

Rome, Aug. 14 (AP)—Italy's armed forces have been strengthened by some 800 tanks and 328 war planes since the American military aid program began, it was reported today. The Rome News Agency, which usually depends on official sources, said also that 63 of the planes were jet-propelled. Other American aid to Italy has included the transfer of two destroyers, three escort vessels and 31 landing craft, the agency reported.

To Induct 16 Men

Local draft boards 19 (county) and 18 (city) are scheduled to induct 16 men Sept. 5, it was announced today. The county board will induct 10 and the city board six men.

Rotary Hears Talk On Conservation

Speaking on conservation at the luncheon-meeting of the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday, State Game Warden Henry Bernstein said the prime function of the conservation department was to see that there was intelligent use made of the forests and of the game and fish of the state.

If hunters and fishermen would observe the laws, he declared, there would be sufficient for them and plenty for future generations.

In order to protect the wild life of the state, it was necessary to catch violators and fine them, he said. The task presented many problems in the winter when illegal trapping or hunting took place in mountainous sections.

The game warden said he covered 400 square miles throughout Ulster county.

A graduate of Virginia Military School Bernstein said his love for the outdoors was the reason he took up conservation work.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

As I wrote before in this column, I was very much impressed with the first visit to the Art Exhibition of the 300th Anniversary held at the George Washington School. The chairmen, Mrs. E. Crane Chadbourne and Mrs. George V. D. Hutton should be congratulated for bringing it here, and no doubt it was no simple matter and perhaps took months and considerable amount of funds to arrange it. Kingstonians should make every effort to see it, for as time goes on they will run across items and perhaps reproduction of these paintings or other Hudson river artists and it will mean something to them. Each painting, and each artist has an interesting background which is told simply and concisely alongside of each painting at the exhibition.

Harry Rigby loaned me a book called "Highlights Among the Hudson River Artists" and I just looked up Asher B. Durand, who is well represented at the show. He was of Huguenot descent, and was first known as the engraver of Trumbull's large painting of "Declaration of Independence." Most of us have seen copies of it, I am sure. It took Durand three years to complete it, and when done, his reputation was firmly established. The engraving was published in 1823.

But now I want to quote the part in the book about our own Kingston born, Vanderlyn: "Durand was now in business for himself, and orders came in thick and fast. Durand was able to expand, and he had the great good fortune to come into possession of the famous painting "Ariadne" by one of the noted painters, Vanderlyn, who had spent much time studying art in Paris, and who had brought "Ariadne" back with him to his own country. This painting was of an undraped figure of a woman, very beautiful, and marvelously executed. Having made quite a long stay in Paris, John Vanderlyn did not realize that undraped figures were still not acceptable to his home public over here. He had hoped to get a large price for it, and exhibited it in New York, but the public would have none of it, although it was universally admitted to be a great piece of work. Vanderlyn therefore became hard pressed for money and he sold it to Durand for only $600.

We have a copy of a draped "Ariadne" at our own Senate House Museum. The story continues on this first painting and it is as strange as fiction. Durand made an exquisite engraving of it and when the public had become accustomed to the many undraped female paintings exhibited here and there they began to realize how fine a painting "Ariadne" was. Durand made it one of the most popular of its time. He kept the original painting for years in the Historical Society building, and finally sold it by auction for $5,000, after more than 30 years possession. Joseph Harrison of Philadelphia was the buyer, and after his death, his widow presented it to the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts, where it is today. No doubt, today, it is priceless. It was reprinted some time ago in "This Week," magazine Sunday section of The Herald Tribune.

This exhibition brought out another interesting item, a still life of fruit by John Vanderlyn. It was loaned to the show by Mrs. William Hasbrouck. I never knew Vanderlyn painted fruit, still life. In other words he could paint anything, be it portraits, landscape, etc.

Pilgrimage Set For State Knights

Sunday, Sept. 14, Knights of Columbus from all parts of New York state will journey to Auriesville, it was announced by Harold W. O'Connor, chairman of the Catholic Affairs Committee of Kingston Council 275, K of C.

Auriesville, on the banks of the Mohawk river a few miles west of Amsterdam, is the site of an Indian village where Sts. Isaac Jogues, Rene Goupil, and John LaLande suffered martyrdom for their faith. It is also the birthplace of Kateri Tekakwitha, an Indian girl who achieved the first step towards sainthood, having been declared Venerable by Pope Pius XII in 1943. The Jesuit fathers maintain the shrine of the North American Martyrs at Auriesville.

It is expected that a large delegation from Kingston will join the pilgrimage. O'Connor made it clear that this trip will be open not only to members of the Knights of Columbus but also to their families and all who care to go.

Working Wives

Eight million wives of the United States, or nearly one-fourth of all married women, have jobs outside the home, with one-half of these working wives being mothers.

Marines Repulse

day infiltrated the crest of nearby Siberia Hill—also captured Tuesday by the marines. But allied troops silenced the guns in 15 minutes.

The Communists preceded their Wednesday night assault on Bunker Hill with a fiery, three-hour artillery barrage.

Then, at 9:05 p. m., Chinese infantrymen charged into withering fire from marine rifles, machine-guns and artillery. Seventy minutes later the shattered Communist battalion pulled back.

The Reds launched the next attack at 2:25 a. m. Thursday. After a crackling skirmish which lasted four minutes, they withdrew to their lines.

"When they found the marines were really ready for them, they called it off," said Maj. Louis Breault, Dallas, Tex.

3,000 Assigned to Job

Breault estimated 3,000 or more Reds have been assigned to retake Bunker Hill.

"If recent patterns are followed," he added, "it is very possible that if the enemy is unable to retake the hill in a week's time, they may give up."

Of 10,246 rounds of Communist artillery and mortar fire which fell in allied territory Wednesday, 6,413 rounds dropped in the marine sector—mostly around Bunker Hill.

Wednesday night, B-26 bombers blasted an enemy supply concentration just north of Samdong, about 15 miles east of Pyongyang, the capital of North Korea. Other bombers teamed with marine aircraft and bombed Communists frontline positions.

Specially Designed

The prefabricated bunkers which helped the leathernecks withstand the assaults on Bunker Hill are specially designed shelters made of timber sawed and shaped in a marine sawmill. One man easily pack the parts for one bunker and erect it, using merely an entrenching tool-no nails.

In Tokyo, Gen. Otto Weyland said Red MIG-15's still outnumber Sabre jets, the fastest UN warplane, "but the MIGs aren't ing me a damned bit." The top allied air commander explained that allied air power has increased considerably while Communist strength has leveled off, with the result that "we have enough Sabre jets to take care of them, as has been shown by our recent victories."

A new, secret navigational system, he added, makes "absolutely negligible" the possibility that allied planes might inadvertently bomb Chinese territory.

House Application

city hall after Sept. 1, and probably on that date.

Applications will be screened by both the local authority and by officials of the State Division of Housing as to eligibility for tenancy. Those whose applications on first examination may be declared ineligible will be given later opportunity for a review of their applications at special hearings.

For 100 Families

The state-sponsored, low rental housing project will accommodate nearly 100 local families. Facilities will be of the latest type and the grounds will be attractively landscaped.

The local housing authority will advertise the date on and after which the application forms are available.

Says Chances Are Slim

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Oldsters' chances of being admitted to an old-age home in New York state are "slim" because of overcrowding and stiff admission requirements, a state senator said today. Republican Thomas C. Desmond of Newburgh, chairman of the joint legislative committee on problems of the aging, said a survey of 56 old-age homes indicated as much as a seven-year waiting period for admittance. "Applicants must wait for deaths to create vacancies," he added.

New Defense Bonds Now Available Here

William F. Edelmuth chairman, Ulster County Savings Bonds Committee, announced today that the improved Defense Bonds are now available at all banks, post offices and other issuing points.

These improved bonds, Edelmuth said, pay the new improved interest rates as announced by the Treasury Department last May 1. The new table of interest rates appears on the back of each bond. He said further that it is expected that the improved features of the bond will further increase sales in Ulster county.

The improved E Bond series now pay three per cent compounded semi-annually when held for nine years, eight months.

Reds Need Mass Migration

Honk Kong, (AP) — Communist China is considering a mass movement of population to meet state needs in Manchuria. Kao Kang, ruler of Manchuria for the Pieping government, in a prospectus for Manchuria industrialization called for "a five year plan of immigration." Kao said it will be necessary to move part of the people from South Manchuria and China proper to North Manchuria for reclamation, building up new villages and establishing state and collective farms.

EAT WELL for Less

Try Shish Kebabs, Soft Drinks

SHISH KEBABS skewer-broiled indoors or out, and served with chilled soft drinks, offer refreshing relief to heat-weary appetites.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

For that wilted family appetite try this combination, outdoors or in — zestful, chilled carbonated drinks and skewer-broiled shish kebabs.

Skewer broiling may be done outdoors using sharpened green wood, if it's a picnic-in-the-rough. Or the broiler in your oven may be used—just rest skewers at tip and near handle across a deep baking pan; place far enough below heat so that drippings won't catch fire, then slowly turn the skewers by hand until the food is done to your liking.

Shish Kebabs on Rolls
(Serves 6)

One pound cubed chuck beef, ½ pound sausages, 1 green pepper, 6 medium onions, 6 frankfurter rolls.

Place pieces of cubed beef and onion halves alternately on skewers. Roll up sausages into circle and fasten with toothpicks until ready to serve. Place on skewers alternately with green peppers cut into squares and onion halves. Broil in oven or over outdoor fire.

Cubed lamb, frankfurters, scallops, kidneys, apple sections, butter-brushed mushrooms and liver strips skewered in ribbon fashion are all delicious when skewer-broiled.

Here's another hot-night treat. It's really a treat.

Seafood Medley
(Makes 25 Servings)

Four cups cooked cleaned shrimp; 4 7-ounce cans tuna, flaked; 3 cups cooked lobster or crab, flaked; 1 cup French dressing; 2 quarts minced celery; 4 cucumbers, diced; ½ cup minced onion; 1 cup sliced stuffed olives; 2 teaspoons salt; ½ teaspoon pepper; 2½ cups mayonnaise.

Combine shrimp, tuna and lobster. Pour French dressing over this. Let stand in refrigerator 1 hour. Drain. Combine with celery, cucumbers, onion and olives. Combine salt, pepper and mayonnaise and fold into seafood mixture. Chill thoroughly. Serve mounded on crisp lettuce leaves.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Canned or quick-frozen orange juice, scrambled eggs with bacon, split and toasted buns, butter or margarine, raspberry jam, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomatoes stuffed with tuna salad, hot buttered toast, watermelon, iced tea, milk.

DINNER: Shish Kebabs on rolls, vegetable salad (peas, carrots, purple onions, green peppers, tomatoes and cucumbers, lettuce and watercress, French dressing), warm blackberry roll, vanilla ice cream, carbonated beverages, milk.

Good Supper Menu

Here's a good supper menu: scallops, baked potatoes, and cole slaw. Saute the scallops in butter or margarine and serve with tartar sauce. To make the sauce mix a cup of mayonnaise with a tablespoon of minced dill pickle, a tablespoon of minced parsley and some finely grated onion. For dessert serve ice cream with fresh blueberry sauce.

Beetle Fights Tree Pest

Riverside, Calif. (AP)—The Vedalia beetle is one insect that is wanted almost the world over. Recently the University of California Citrus Experiment Station here airmailed 50 of the live beetles to the Samoan Islands to fight a citrus tree pest known as cottony cushion scale. After the beetles, one-eighth of an inch long, were introduced into citrus groves here in 1888 the cottony cushion scale was completely controlled, reports Curtis P. Clausen, chairman of the Division of Biological Control. "There has been no trouble since 1888, except in recent years following application of DDT and other new organic insecticides for control of other pests," reported Clausen. "Use of these insecticides destroys the beetles and thus permits the scale to increase to destructive levels." Scientists here said that since 1890 the Vedalia beetle has been distributed to 65 different countries and geographical areas of the world to fight the destructive scale.

Also, after successful comple-tion of at least 14 of their 20 weeks basic course at Quantico, these officers may apply for flight training. Those accepted will be sent to the U. S. Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., for their pilot training.

Interested college seniors and graduates are urged to apply now, well in advance of the expiration of their student draft deferments. Accepted men will not be assigned to active duty until October.

For more detailed information those interested may contact Sgt. Awkerman at the Kingston Post Office Building, room 209, Monday through Saturday, 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Fruit and Berry Stains

Treat fruit and berry stains at once if possible; they are hard to remove after they dry. Boiling water (if it will not harm the stained material) or sometimes even warm water will remove most fruit stains. It is best not to use soap in treating the stain, as alkalies in the soap set some fruit and berry stains. Use the same methods for removing stains from cooked fruits and berries as from fresh.

FLYING WRENCH STORY—Mrs. Mac Dicker, of Los Angeles, points to the six-inch wrench that flew against her car's windshield and imbedded itself in the glass as she drove into Las Vegas with her husband. The freak accident happened when the wrench was kicked up from the highway by another car.

waska Trail, Sunday, Sept. 7. Refreshments will be available at 11 a. m. and the bake will start at 3 p. m. Proceeds will be used to help finance the new firehouse now being built on the Minnewaska Trail. Tickets must be secured on or before Aug. 31. In Gardiner, tickets are available at all grocery stores and taverns. In New Paltz at Pat and George's, Elsie and Bob's and the Log Rail.

Airman first class Thomas L. Upright arrived home August 3. He enlisted in the air corps in 1948 and received his basic training at Lockwood Air Base, Texas, after which he was stationed at Fort Francis Warren Air Base in Wyoming. He later was at Clark Air Base in Manila. He arrived in San Francisco July 26 and was discharged from service at Hamilton Air Base, California, August 1.

Speeding Curb Proposed

Carbondale, Ill. (AP)—To slow down motorists, several Carbondale residents proposed that their street be graded like a roller coaster. Their formal petition to city council was taken under advisement. Mayor John Wright commented that the same effect might be gained by allowing streets to deteriorate into ruts, making speeding impractical.

Permits Revoked On Two Bus Lines

The Public Service Commission today revoked in Albany certificates of convenience and necessity held by Mrs. Laura G. Smith, as administratrix of the estate of Chester M. Smith, for operation of bus routes between Woodbourne and Ellenville and between Woodbourne and Neversink dam.

Although certificates covering the routes were permanent and valid for year round operations, the routes have been operated only during the summer months.

Attorneys for the company notified the commission that operation on the Woodbourne-Ellenville route was resumed on June 29 and discontinued on July 7 because revenue averaged only about $4 a day as compared with daily operating expenses of $35. Service on the other route, which was operated only one week last year, was not resumed this summer because of lack of patronage.

The certificates were revoked by the commission because of failure of the company to file acceptable evidence of insurance for the 1952 season. No objections to the action were filed by the company.

Cycles 100 Miles for Dog

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 14 (AP)—A 55-year-old farm woman rode a bicycle 100 miles to get a pet mongrel dog from the Hillsborough County Humane Society here. M. A. Gilbert, resident agent for the society, said Mrs. H. S. Hills, dusty and tired, was on hand yesterday when the first employes came to work. Gilbert said Mrs. Hills told him the bicycle was her only means of travel and that she considered the 100 mile round trip only mild exercise. The return trip was made in 90 degree heat. Mrs. Hills said she lives on a farm four miles south of Brooksville with her son, Donald.

To Probe Crash

Newark, N. J., Aug. 14 (AP)—A civilian test pilot escaped serious injury yesterday in the crash of an F-84 Thunderjet fighter plane at Newark Airport. Earl Kane of Babylon, N. Y., suffered cuts and a sprained ankle in the crash, first at the field since it was reopened for limited service June 16 after a series of three air tragedies in Elizabeth. The plane, being flight tested prior to shipment overseas, overshot a runway and skidded into an embankment 30 feet from busy Route 25. The craft was badly damaged. An air force spokesman said the crash will be investigated.

King Lets Dodgers Down With a Smile

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—As a Dodger fan, young King Faisal II of Iraq committed only one error—he smiled when Bobby Thomson of the rival Giants belted a run home.

The 17-year-old monarch attended his first baseball game yesterday at Ebbets Field.

An avowed Dodger rooter, he sat in the Broolyn dugout and the club president's box to watch his favorites win over the Giants, 5-4.

But in the second inning Thomson smacked a line drive into the left-field stands. The Flatbush faithful roared—with disapproval. Faisal smiled.

Ike Won't Attend

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—President Truman invited Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to a cabinet luncheon and foreign affairs briefing at the White House next Tuesday but the Republican presidential nominee turned down the offer. The White House made public shortly before 8 a. m. (EST) the text of a telegram Truman sent Eisenhower yesterday morning and said the general's reply, rejecting the offer had been received. Press Secretary Joseph Short told newsmen the invitation to Eisenhower had been "in the works" before Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, came here on Tuesday for a round of conferences at the White House.

The certificates were revoked by the commission because of failure of the company to file acceptable evidence of insurance for the 1952 season. No objections to the action were filed by the company.

Cycles 100 Miles for Dog

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 14 (AP)—A 55-year-old farm woman rode a bicycle 100 miles to get a pet mongrel dog from the Hillsborough County Humane Society here. M. A. Gilbert, resident agent for the society, said Mrs. H. S. Hills, dusty and tired, was on hand yesterday when the first employes came to work. Gilbert said Mrs. Hills told him the bicycle was her only means of travel and that she considered the 100 mile round trip only mild exercise. The return trip was made in 90 degree heat. Mrs. Hills said she lives on a farm four miles south of Brooksville with her son, Donald.

To Probe Crash

Newark, N. J., Aug. 14 (AP)—A civilian test pilot escaped serious injury yesterday in the crash of an F-84 Thunderjet fighter plane at Newark Airport. Earl Kane of Babylon, N. Y., suffered cuts and a sprained ankle in the crash, first at the field since it was reopened for limited service June 16 after a series of three air tragedies in Elizabeth. The plane, being flight tested prior to shipment overseas, overshot a runway and skidded into an embankment 30 feet from busy Route 25. The craft was badly damaged. An air force spokesman said the crash will be investigated.

King Lets Dodgers Down With a Smile

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—As a Dodger fan, young King Faisal II of Iraq committed only one error—he smiled when Bobby Thomson of the rival Giants belted a run home.

The 17-year-old monarch attended his first baseball game yesterday at Ebbets Field.

An avowed Dodger rooter, he sat in the Broolyn dugout and the club president's box to watch his favorites win over the Giants, 5-4.

But in the second inning Thomson smacked a line drive into the left-field stands. The Flatbush faithful roared—with disapproval. Faisal smiled.

Ike Won't Attend

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—President Truman invited Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to a cabinet luncheon and foreign affairs briefing at the White House next Tuesday but the Republican presidential nominee turned down the offer. The White House made public shortly before 8 a. m. (EST) the text of a telegram Truman sent Eisenhower yesterday morning and said the general's reply, rejecting the offer had been received. Press Secretary Joseph Short told newsmen the invitation to Eisenhower had been "in the works" before Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, came here on Tuesday for a round of conferences at the White House.

Arlene Dahl To Be Guest of City

Program Listed For Welcome Here Of Movie Actress

Arlene Dahl, one of Hollywood's current stars, will be the guest of the city of Kingston, Thursday, Aug. 21, as part of Kingston's tercentennial celebration. Paramount Pictures is flying Miss Dahl here as a birthday tribute and in conjunction with the world premiere here on that date of their top technicolor picture of the 1952-53 season, Caribbean.

Kingston will go all-out in her welcome to Miss Dahl. She will arrive in the city at 11:30 a. m., for a civic reception by city officials. At noon, she will speak at a joint meeting of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs of Kingston. After luncheon, she will be interviewed on WKNY. During the afternoon, Miss Dahl will award trophies at the Ulster County Fair which winds up on that day. She will make personal appearances at two theatres where Caribbean will be shown simultaneously. At the Broadway Theatre, to which she will be escorted in a jeep cavalcade accompanied by a selected honor guard of 36 men of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, 27th Division, of the National Guard, Miss Dahl will receive an honorary "commission" as a colonel and commandant of the battalion. The 156th is the oldest military unit in continuous existence in the United States, being a direct lineal descendant of the Trainband of Wiltwyck and Esopus, formed for protection against Indians plaguing the infant settlement of Kingston in 1658.

Caribbean was filmed principally in the city of Kingston, Jamaica, British West Indies, and for that reason it seemed particularly appropriate to preview the picture in Kingston, New York. Caribbean is a swashbuckling colonial tale of pirates which opens in a locale along the 18th century New Jersey coast and then switches to the West Indies in 1728. Kingston, Jamaica, then was a city about 35 years old, only 40 years younger than her sister-city in New York.

No Talk of Strike, Say Rail Dispute Mediators

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—Peace talks continue today in efforts to settle a New York Central Railroad union-management dispute, and federal mediators say "there is no talk of strike."

The mediators made the statement yesterday at the end of the third day of mediation, and they added that "the merits of the dispute are under discussion."

Earlier in the day, the mediators expressed pleasure with progress being made and with the cooperation shown by management and union officials.

Three railroad brotherhoods had threatened a strike to start last Monday on the Central's lines east of Buffalo, but union officials postponed a walkout indefinitely to allow for renewed mediation.

The dispute concerns 58 union claims and grievances based on working rules.

The three unions which have threatened a strike are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhod of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Aug. 14—Mrs. George Partland and daughter, Joan, of Inwood, L. I., were guests last week of Josephine Loos at the Loos family bungalow along the Ridge road. Joan, who spent several weeks here last summer, is a student at Lawrence High School.

Joseph Haver, War 2 veteran, has returned from the hospital.

Walted Cook of Ashokan is still a patient at a Kingston Hospital.

Fred Worden, Lomontville resident who was tendered a party upon the occasion of his 64th birthday, Aug. 4, was brought up in Olive, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Worden of Brodhead.

Mrs. M. Cranston and daughter have returned to New York following a vacation sojourn of several weeks in one of the L. F. Ruckert bungalows in the village center.

Having a birthday today, is Joseph Elefant, Ashokan grocer and resident of the lower village for the past three years. Joe, a native of Austria, is married to the former Rose Cohen of Ashokan and they have three children.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carpenter and youngest son, Patrick, of Richmond Hill spent the weekend at their Shokan camp. Mrs. Carpenter while returning home alone Tuesday morning was obliged to come back here after her car broke down at Poughkeepsie. The Carpenters plan to spend three weeks at their local place in the near future.

Swift passage of the Shokan and Olive Bridge fire trucks enlivened the village scene Monday night as the Olive firemen sped towards a fire in the Traver Hollow sector where the Diaz home burned down. The dwelling reportedly had been fashioned from an old barn on the former Martin Every, or one time Curtis Beadle, place. Robert Adsit drove the local firewagon Monday. Henry Gebelein and Fred Adsit directed traffic at the corner store junction.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Chopay of Springfield, L. I., were weekend guests at the home of Mrs. Chopay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Giles of the old state road. The couple's son, George, now serving his fourth year in the navy is stationed at the Philadelphia Navy Yard and his wife is living in Hollis, L. I.

MT. TREMPER

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

From the letters the Ruminator has received lately, and from conversations with folks who have dropped by, it is evident that there is sober interest among a minority of people as to the direction of our social trends. (Note the emphasis upon "minority" because the majority accepts trends without too much thought about them.)

There has been intense interest in social trends, of course, ever since the inception of the "Roosevelt Revolution" 20 years ago. But the recent political conventions have reawakened thinking along these channels because of the marked differences of opinions within the two parties. It was clear this year, as you noticed, that there was a wide gulf between what we might term the "conservatives" and the "liberals" in both the Republican and Democratic parties. (It is odd, in a way, how the word "liberal" has been completely reversed in its meaning over the past half-century. It formerly meant those who stood for liberty, freedom, and conservatism; while today it is used to denote those who subscribe to New Deal and Welfare State tenets, and even more radical views.)

The strange developments in Chicago were that in the Republican party the more intensely conservative wing (those supporting Senator Taft) was outnumbered by the more liberal group; while in the Democratic party the intensely liberal and radical elements were defeated by the "middle-roaders" (for want of a better term) who persisted in nominating Governor Stevenson.

What will this mean in terms of social trends?

First, I think, we have to hold in mind the primary consideration; namely, that the socio-economic trend throughout the world, including the United States, has been slanting leftward (toward rather than away from increased state-socialism) for a long time. The trend was not clearly evident in this country until about 20 years ago, although there was "scholarly" thought about it prior to the advent of the 20th Century. However, in Great Britain, for example, the "socialist state" was actively debated and discussed during the latter half of the 19th Century. (In 1851 Herbert Spencer published his noted treatise, entitled "Social Statics; or "The Conditions Essential to Human Happiness Specified." This study made clear the fundamental principle that society should be organized on the basis of voluntary cooperation, not on the basis of compulsory cooperation, or under threat of it. The Ruminator suggests you get hold of a copy of Spencer's essays, "The Man Versus the State," which has been reprinted by the Caxton Printers, Ltd., Caldwell, Idaho, and is available through your bookseller.)

So you see the arguments of "man versus the state" are not new; but the state seems to be winning out over the individual, as we have witnessed in late years.

Now to get back to the question what the recent nominations mean in terms of social trends—

They might mean a "slowing-up" in the leftward social trend, but certainly not a reversal of trend. If the Republicans win in November, it would appear probable that during the next four years we shall not witness much "change." That is to say, social trends are likely to remain static: not much reversal and not any further drift to the left.

It is more difficult to guess what will occur under Stevenson, if he's elected. Mr. Stevenson himself is probably far from a "state socialist." Those who know him, regard him highly (just heard from a classmate of his at Princeton, who said Stevenson was well-liked there "and a high type fellow—can't imagine him a stooge for labor or any pressure group"). However, the Democratic party has become the liberal party, the Welfare-State party—and you can't get away from it. Governor Stevenson can't get away from it, either, even if he might wish to. So, it seems to be a fair guess that if there is any movement in the socio-economic trends under a Democratic regime it will be toward further liberalism. There won't be any "reaction," that's sure.

What does it all come down to?

It means that the world trends are too powerful to be reversed and that we might better plan our lives to continue under a liberalized form of government and society than to hope for a return to "rugged individualism." It is quite clear, I think, that the majority do not wish "to turn back" and it would be foolhardy to buck the trend too strongly. To speak in military terms, about all we can hope for is "a holding action" over the next few years.

Records show that cold weather is just as likely to occur when the moon is new as when it is full or in any other phase.

Rullo Is Held For Grand Jury

Andrew A. Rullo, 16, one of the two Jersey City youths charged with the theft of the car of Dr. William Dean, of 45 West Chestnut street, waived examination before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today and was held for the grand jury.

The other youth, James Shaw, was held for the grand jury yesterday after waiving examination. Attorney Arthur B. Ewig appeared for Shaw and Seymour Werbalowsky appeared today for Rullo. John Larkin represented the district attorney's office.

Dr. Dean's car was reported stolen Saturday night and early Sunday local police were notified by the state police at Highland that Shaw and Rullo had been apprehended with the car.

Not Even a Record

Moscow, Aug. 14 (AP)—Evening Moscow said there is a man in the Odessa region who is 131 years old. It said Luka Izotov was born in 1821, lives with his youngest daughter, 59, has 10 children, 34 grandchildren and 52 great-grandchildren. (This is no record. Last year, when Moscow's press was paying a good deal of attention to longevity, it reported people in the southern sections of the Soviet Union reaching ripe old ages all the way up to 150.)

Man Who Lived 8 Years With Corpse Is Found Dead

Zephyr Hills, Fla., Aug. 14 (AP) — Dr. Karl Tanzler Von Cosel, who so loved a woman that he kept her body for eight years and serenaded her nightly with organ music, is dead.

The circumstances of his own passing were as dismal as his life with the corpse of beautiful Elena Mesa. His decomposing body was found in his house. Deputy Sheriff Gene Rossi said he had been dead three weeks.

Said He'd Died Before

Coroner L. L. Johns said death resulted from natural causes for the, eccentric X-ray technician who had often said that he would never die because he had died before.

Von Cosel received international publicity in 1940, when the body of Miss Mesa was found in the tumbledown shack where he lived on Flagler street in Key West.

While he was working in a hospital he had met and fallen in love with the 19-year-old girl who died of tuberculosis. He obtained permission from her family to build a vault for her in the city cemetery.

Eight years later, a woman's intuition led to discovery of the body in Von Cosel's house. A sister of the dead girl told officers she had felt for some time that Miss Mesa's body was not in the vault.

Find Body in Bed

Deputies went to Von Cosel's shack and found the body in a canopied bed. It was dressed in a filmy negligee and adorned with jewels and there were fresh flowers in her hair. Von Cosel had a closet full of bridal finery in which he dressed his lost love.

He was charged with disturbing a grave and vandalism but the charges later were dismissed.

Von Cosel told officers he had taken the girl's body from the tomb and kept it in an aeroplane fuselage for two years before moving it to his home. He claimed that she sometimes came to life and talked with him.

Looked Strangely Alive

He built an organ to serenade her and said he preserved her with chemicals he mixed in a vat.

Examination at a funeral home where the body was taken proved that the remains were just bones covered with wax and plaster of Paris, but Von Cosel had kept the face moulded in a death mask so that the dead girl still looked strangely alive.

In 1941, Von Cosel was evicted from his house and moved to Zephyr Hills. Four years later, the vault in which Miss Mesa was first interred was destroyed by a mysterious explosion.

The present resting place of Miss Mesa never was disclosed by the family. All members of her immediate family have since died of tuberculosis.

To Raise Missions

Amman, Jordan, Aug. 14 (AP)—Jordan will raise its diplomatic missions in London, Washington, Paris and Cairo to embassy levels, the Foreign Ministry announced today. Ministers at these posts will be promoted to ambassadorial rank.

Egyptians Are Warned

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 14 (AP)—Mob-minded Egyptians had warning today to keep still or run the risk of hanging. The country's military commander announced last night any attempt at disturbance would be considered high treason, an offense punishable by death. The announcement from Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, army chief of staff and architect of the recent military coup d'etat, followed a labor riot outside Alexandria yesterday in which five to seven persons died.

Will Give Readers News

London, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Manchester Guardian, founded 131 years ago, disclosed today it has finally decided to start printing news on its front page. In common with many other British newspapers, the influential liberal Guardian now carries nothing on page one but pure advertising matter. A spokesman said the changeover will be made some time during the autumn. He added that the Guardian hasn't yet decided where it will put the displaced ads.

Kirk Is Appointed

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—President Truman today appointed Adm. Alan G. Kirk, former ambassador to Moscow, as director of the Psychological Strategy Board. The board formulates general policy for U. Allen who is leaving to become chancellor of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Mrs. FDR Irks Poughkeepsie And Retraction Is Sought

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was in hot water today with the city fathers here.

They were aroused over what they considered a reflection on Poughkeepsie in her syndicated "My Day" column.

Commenting on an experiment in Newburgh to reduce tooth decay by fluoridation of drinking water, she wrote:

"In our nearby city of Poughkeepsie, we are so backward about our water system that I doubt whether we will ever give a thought to such an experiment."

Not So, Stevens Says

Not so, said Poughkeepsie Mayor Robert E. Steven. He said Poughkeepsie already had contracted for equipment so fluoridation could begin next month.

"A retraction should be made," he told newsmen.

Dr. George Kraus, the city's health officer, said "Mrs. Roosevelt isn't very well informed and I believe she should make a correction in her column."

City Manager Hayden Johnson said he was writing to her to ask her to inform her readers of "Poughkeepsie's progress toward fluoridation."

Mrs. Roosevelt was not immediately available for comment.

State Health Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe had reported Aug. 11 that fluoridation of Newburgh's drinking water since 1944 had reduced tooth decay among children in that city by 47 per cent.

Versatile Drug Still Available With New Label

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—The wonder drug Chloromycetin remains on the market—but with clear warnings attached to its use by physicians.

Under a government ruling announced yesterday, every package of it must henceforth carry an explicit caution to doctors against indiscriminate use or for minor infections—and a warning of possible hazards under certain conditions.

The government feels, however, that the versatile drug "should continue to be available for careful use by the medical profession in those serious and sometimes fatal diseases in which its use is necessary."

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) had been faced with deciding about future use of the drug as a result of serious blood disorders, some of them fatal recently noted among people treated with the medicine.

Saved Many Lives

There was even talk of a possible ban on the drug, which, since 1949, has been used in more than eight million cases. It has been credited with saving thousands of lives from serious infections like typhoid fever, Rocky Mountain spotted fever, undulant fever, epidemic typhus, "scrub" typhus, certain pneumonias and urinary tract infections. It is medicine's only known cure for typhoid.

But yesterday, the FDA announced its decision to permit the drug to remain on the market "under revised labeling that will caution physicians explicitly against its indiscriminate use." Packages of the drug will also contain information spelling out potential blood-disorder hazards from "prolonged or intermittent use" and calling for "adequate blood studies under such use." It can be obtained only on a doctor's prescription.

Cancer Society Field Army Plans Transportation

An emergency transportation program has been organized in the Town of Rochester by the field army of the Ulster county branch of the American Cancer Society, it was announced today.

Mrs. E. B. Shumate, field army director, said that the schedule was arranged to provide daily transportation to the Tumor Clinic in Kingston for a resident of the township. She said that after the schedule had been set up it had been found that a second resident of the area also required transportation.

Mrs. Julius Herschowsky of Accord, chairman of the transportation program, praised the Town of Rochester and the Order of the Eastern Star for their cooperation. Those who volunteered to drive their cars were Mrs. Dorothy Kelder, Mrs. Verna Anderson, Harry Snyder, Mrs. Carl Henderson, Mrs. Burton Marshall, Mrs. Bertha Goodman, Mrs. Hilda Chase, Mrs. Albert Traver, Mrs. Mildred Lake, Mrs. Jennie Gazlay and Mrs. George Percy.

Mrs. Shumate said that other transportation units were being organized and that the field army hoped to have such programs in operation in every township where they were needed.

In Critical Condition After Stabbing in Car

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—John Pangano, 46, of 29 Rockaway Parkway, Valley Stream, L. I., was in critical condition in Lincoln Hospital, the Bronx, after having been stabbed in the chest by a Negro woman companion while riding in an automobile at 125th street and Lenox avenue at 5:30 a. m. today, police reported.

Police said the driver of the car, William Hold, of 8899 South street, East Hempstead, L. I., drove the injured man to the hospital. Their Negro women companions jumped out of the car at the intersection and disappeared, police said.

The women were described as about 25 years of age, five feet four inches tall and weighing about 125 pounds.

The human body contains 65 per cent oxygen, 18 per cent carbon, 10 per cent hydrogen, and 3 per cent nitrogen.

Automotive Hint

There is a tendency on the part of many motorists to use a heavier oil than is recommended for their cars. Any small saving it may effect in consumption is more than offset by greater starting difficulties and waste of gasoline, due to higher friction loss in the engine.

Costello Has Order To Report for Jail

New York, Aug. 14 (AP) — Gambler Frank Costello must surrender tomorrow to serve an 18-month sentence for contempt of the U. S. Senate, U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane says.

Lane's statement came yesterday after Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson for the second time rejected in Washington a defense plea that Costello be allowed continued freedom in bail pending appeal.

Costello, 61, has been free in $5,000 bail while making several unsuccessful appeals.

He was fined $2,000 in addition to the jail sentence for refusing to answer several questions before the Senate Crime Committee and for walking out on it twice here in March, 1951.

Defense counsel could not be reached for comment on whether any new legal move would be made in an effort to avert surrender.

Licq-Athery, France, Aug. 14 (AP)—A doctor went 1,000 feet down into the earth today to treat a cave explorer who had fallen and broken his back and jaw. The physician traveled two and a half hours on a steel cable lowered into the Pierre Saint-Martin Cave to reach the injured man, Marcel Loubens, and reported back: "Condition stationary, great hopes. Extremely delicate job of bringing injured up." Both the doctor and Loubens are members of an expedition that is exploring the huge cave near here. The huge cave was discovered last year by Belgian explorer Max Cosyns, who organized the expedition this year in an attempt to get even deeper into the earth.

16 Will Take Exam For Fire Captain

Sixteen members of the local paid fire department will take the examination Saturday to fill the captaincy left vacant by the recent retirement of E. Wright Maines, Thomas J. Finnerty, president of the Municipal Civil Service Commission announced today.

The examination will be held at 7:30 p. m., at the local high school.

The local commission announced recently that James M. Hutton, who had been temporarily serving as fireman equipment mechanic, had topped the list in the civil service examination for permanent appointment to that position with a mark of 92.9 per cent, and the Board of Fire Commissioners is expected to make the appointment soon.

This promotion and the filling of the captaincy will open the way for appointment of new firemen.

Nurse Still Unconscious

Mrs. Debra Henry, the nurse from Camp Rondout, LeFevre Falls, who reportedly suffered a fracture of the skull July 31 when she was thrown from a horse in a mishap while riding with a group at Maple Hill, was transferred from the Benedictine Hospital to a hospital at Albany early last night for treatment by a specialist. She had remained unconscious since she was admitted the local hospital said and her condition was reported yesterday as "grave."

Costello Has Order To Report for Jail

New York, Aug. 14 (AP) — Gambler Frank Costello must surrender tomorrow to serve an 18-month sentence for contempt of the U. S. Senate, U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane says.

Lane's statement came yesterday after Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson for the second time rejected in Washington a defense plea that Costello be allowed continued freedom in bail pending appeal.

Costello, 61, has been free in $5,000 bail while making several unsuccessful appeals.

He was fined $2,000 in addition to the jail sentence for refusing to answer several questions before the Senate Crime Committee and for walking out on it twice here in March, 1951.

Defense counsel could not be reached for comment on whether any new legal move would be made in an effort to avert surrender.

Helps Injured Explorer

Licq-Athery, France, Aug. 14 (AP)—A doctor went 1,000 feet down into the earth today to treat a cave explorer who had fallen and broken his back and jaw. The physician traveled two and a half hours on a steel cable lowered into the Pierre Saint-Martin Cave to reach the injured man, Marcel Loubens, and reported back: "Condition stationary, great hopes. Extremely delicate job of bringing injured up." Both the doctor and Loubens are members of an expedition that is exploring the huge cave near here. The huge cave was discovered last year by Belgian explorer Max Cosyns, who organized the expedition this year in an attempt to get even deeper into the earth.

A life-long resident of Chester county—he was born in Avondale, Pa., near West Chester on Sept. 10, 1874—Sullivan was the youngest of 10 children. His parents were Irish immigrants who became prosperous Pennsylvania farmers.

Sullivan, himself greedy for education and ambitious for success, was a part owner of a newspaper at 19.

The undertaker remarked the other night that probably nobody in town realized more than he did how dead a man is when he's buried. At the same time, he said, he felt Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and Jackson were entitled to a good rest after the working over they got at the National Conventions.

Symbol of Wealth

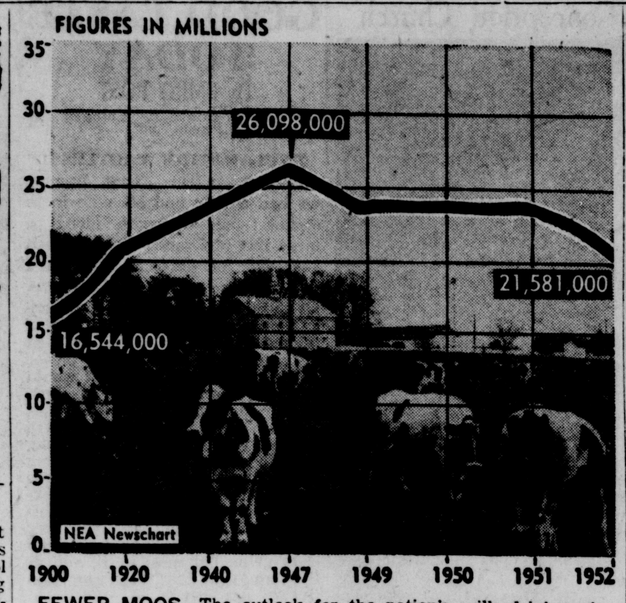
Custom of throwing shoes at weddings originated because shoes once were regarded as a symbol of wealth and power. Tanning methods made leather too expensive for any but the nobility.



FEWER MOOS—The outlook for the nation's milk drinkers is sad if the seven-year downward trend in our dairy population continues, as it does so far this year. According to the Agriculture Department's recent "Bossy" census there are 21,581,000 head on American farms. This total subtracted from the Milk Industry Foundation's survey figures for January, 1951, indicates a loss of almost three million milk givers. Government officials fear the feed shortage from the summer-long drought will cause an even more serious decline. Newschart above shows the steady rise in the cow population from 1900 to 1947, when the peak was reached. The June, 1952, total is the lowest since January, 1920.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Retail prices of pork, eggs, chicken and potatoes moved higher in many stores this week. The only foods generally lower were a handful of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Most fresh cuts of pork advanced, with some of the more popular items like center-cut chops rising as much as 8 cents or more a pound. Smoked hams and shoulders and bacon rose less or held unchanged.

Pork usually is relatively expensive at this time of year when hog marketings are on a small scale. A few dealers said recent quarantines of some stockyards to halt the spread of a disease which affect only hogs also may have helped tighten supplies.

Eggs Climb Higher

Top grade large eggs climbed 2 to 8 cents a dozen, also reflecting a seasonal shortage as hot weather trimmed production and farmers culled their laying flocks of older birds and replaced them with younger pullets. Pullet eggs were more plentiful and in many markets showed almost no change from a week ago—which means they usually were a good buy, pound for pound, compared with large eggs.

Butter prices at the wholesale level edged higher as more milk was diverted to fluid channels and ice cream manufacturers. Wholesalers said their prices were getting too close to the retail level and that retail stores might well be forced to mark up consumer prices by a cent or two before the week-end. Only scattered boosts were noted in stores by mid-week, however.

Up Eight Cents

Broiler and fryer chickens were up as much as 8 cents a pound in some areas. This was partly the result of production cut-backs several weeks ago when prices were lower, and partly the result of higher feed prices stemming from the recent drought. Larger chickens advanced less, with supplies augmented by the birds shipped to market by farmers replacing their egg-laying flocks with younger chickens.

Beef, lamb and veal prices held at about last week's level except where storekeepers posted special reductions to attract customers.

Adversely Affected

The widespread drouth of recent weeks was followed by heavy and persistent rains in many sections—too much rain for some areas. Snap beans, blackberries and cauliflower were adversely affected and potato digging was delayed in many parts of the east, tightening the supply and pushing prices higher.

Spinach and lettuce also worked a little higher, but beets, cabbage, celery, eggplant and peppers were lower in most markets. Corn, cucumbers and onions were in the good buy class pricewise.

As for fresh fruits, peaches, canteloupes, honeydew melons, lemons, limes, cherries and eastern apples all were a little lower, and grapes were down sharply. Nectarines and plums advanced slightly.

Pears were described as of excellent quality and were among the best fruit buys. The Agriculture Department said that although the year's crop of Bartlett pears is no larger than average in size, canners are expected to take smaller quantities than usual, leaving liberal supplies for fresh use.

Turkey Week

This is National Turkey Week and many store chains and large independent markets featured turkeys at special prices. Other foods frequently mentioned as specials for shoppers in the next few days: rib and chuck roasts, prime ribs of beef, fowl, cooked hams, grapes, peaches, pears, canteloupes, corn, cheeses and fresh and frozen fish.

Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer announced that a survey by his department indicated "no widespread price increases as a result of the drouth." While specific areas have been hurt, he said, "there appears to be no major effect on our national economy which should give serious concern."

Coughs Up Evidence On Theft of Diamond

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Clayton Cuff of Baltimore coughed up the evidence to pin a jewel theft charge against him and a companion, police say.

Cuff, 20, and Clinton Allen, 18, both of Baltimore, were arrested yesterday aboard a trolley car after allegedly stealing a $425 diamond ring from a jewelry store.

Store Manager Bernard Livingston said the pair substituted an imitation diamond ring for the real thing as they pretended to be prospective customers. He yelled for police and the men fled.

Only Peaches Plentiful

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Major fruit harvests in New York state will be skimpier than last year's because wet, cool weather last May retarded pollination, the State Agriculture Department says. The department predicted yesterday that the only exception would be peaches, which may total 1,311,000 bushels—about equal to the 1951 crop. The anticipated apple yield of 12,255,000 bushels is about five million bushels short of 1951 production. The department said that conditions as of Aug. 1 indicated the state's pear and grape crops would be almost one-tenth less than last year's. The output of sour and sweet cherries this year represents a two-thirds drop from last year's tonnage.

To avoid unnecessary accidents, provide a non-skid bath mat for your tub.

Turkey Week

This is National Turkey Week and many store chains and large independent markets featured turkeys at special prices. Other foods frequently mentioned as specials for shoppers in the next few days: rib and chuck roasts, prime ribs of beef, fowl, cooked hams, grapes, peaches, pears, canteloupes, corn, cheeses and fresh and frozen fish.

Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer announced that a survey by his department indicated "no widespread price increases as a result of the drouth." While specific areas have been hurt, he said, "there appears to be no major effect on our national economy which should give serious concern."

Coughs Up Evidence On Theft of Diamond

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Clayton Cuff of Baltimore coughed up the evidence to pin a jewel theft charge against him and a companion, police say.

Cuff, 20, and Clinton Allen, 18, both of Baltimore, were arrested yesterday aboard a trolley car after allegedly stealing a $425 diamond ring from a jewelry store.

Store Manager Bernard Livingston said the pair substituted an imitation diamond ring for the real thing as they pretended to be prospective customers. He yelled for police and the men fled.

After Cuff and Allen were seized, police said, Cuff answered questions in a coughing, stuttering fashion.

A detective told Cuff to open his mouth, and out popped the missing diamond, police added.

Only Peaches Plentiful

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Major fruit harvests in New York state will be skimpier than last year's because wet, cool weather last May retarded pollination, the State Agriculture Department says. The department predicted yesterday that the only exception would be peaches, which may total 1,311,000 bushels—about equal to the 1951 crop. The anticipated apple yield of 12,255,000 bushels is about five million bushels short of 1951 production. The department said that conditions as of Aug. 1 indicated the state's pear and grape crops would be almost one-tenth less than last year's. The output of sour and sweet cherries this year represents a two-thirds drop from last year's tonnage.

To avoid unnecessary accidents, provide a non-skid bath mat for your tub.

IN THE U.S.A. EVERY DOG HAS HIS SAY!

Ever stop to think of how wonderful it is to be a dog in the U.S.A.?

Just think of all the brands of dog food there are! Actually, makers of dog food spend millions improving their particular brands so Rover will give them his bark of approval.

But that's only a tiny drop in a whole bunch of buckets compared with the money manufacturers spend improving their products for people! They spend millions on research, new processes, better packaging—all to please you—the consumer.

For you are the real boss of American industry—your desires can make a product great—or break it. You are the first and last word!

As you read this newspaper—remember the brands of the products advertised. When you're in the store . . . ask for them by name. You'll get an important plus—the security of knowing the maker stands behind the brand that carries his name.

Caroline Jablonski Becomes Bride of Joseph J. Raskoskie

Miss Caroline Frances Jablonski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jablonski, 33 Snyder avenue, became the bride of Joseph J. Raskoskie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Raskoskie, 1 Second avenue, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Sunday, Aug. 10, in the Immaculate Conception Church. The Rev. Joseph J. Sieczek, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for 225 guests was held at White Eagle Hall.

The church was decorated with white gladioli. Traditional wedding music was played by Theresa Gehringer, organist. Miss Louise Jablonski, cousin of the bride, sang the Agnus Dei and Ave Maria.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace, styled with an Empire bodice, long pointed sleeves and an off-the-shoulder neckline with a tulle yoke. Her bouffant skirt with godets of plaited nylon tulle, terminated in a circular satin lined train. A halo type headpiece of braided net trimmed with pearlized orange blossoms, secured her full length silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of roses, carnations and ivy.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. William Ellsworth, 5 Apple stret; and the Misses Marion Raskoskie, 1 Second avenue; Marion Misove, 145 Fairview avenue; and Mary Carlson of Hurleyville. ## GOOD TASTE TODAY

By EMILY POST

(Author of 'Etiquette,' 'Children Are People,' etc.)

EXPLANATION TACTLESS!

A wife writes: "Last Sunday we had a man and his wife in to dinner. She brought along a large box of French pastry which I served for dessert, although I had prepared a dessert of my own. As there was quite a lot of pastry left over and my husband and I seldom eat dessert, I put it back in the box and asked her to please take it home with her as it would only go to waste here. My husband was mortified and said that I was very unappreciative. Will you please tell me if I was wrong in doing what I did?"

I'm sorry but I have to agree with your husband that the explanation you gave was very tactless. If only you had urged her to share what was left, you could have given her most of it, and at the same time have been appreciative of her gift.

Dunking

Dear Mrs. Post: In discussing the subject of dunking the other day, a friend of mine told me that she read somewhere that it is no longer considered bad manners to dunk. Will you please tell me if the rule has changed?

Answer: I'm sorry I have to say that dunking is extremely bad table manners!

Introducing

Dear Mrs. Post: When dining in a restaurant where the hostess or waitress is a friend, is it proper to introduce her to the person with whom you are dining?

Answer: It is never improper to introduce a personal friend.

Serving Coffee

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my husband and I were the only guests at a dinner of four in a private house. The hostess placed the coffee service before me and asked me to pour the coffee while she served the dessert. In a situation like this who should I have served first?

Answer: You should have served her and then her husband, then your's and last yourself.

Some of the questions asked about engagements are—how to make public announcement, is a ring necessary, who should call on the groom's family? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but leaflet E-1 will be helpful. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. # Free-Style Events to Mark 17th Swim Meet Sunday at Williams Lake

Thorpe Due to Seek Third Straight Title In Legion Race; Girls Vie for Kiwanis

The American Legion 100-yard free-style for men and the Kiwanis 50-yard free-style for women will be the feature events at the 17th annual trophy meet to be held at Williams Lake in the town of Rosendale, Sunday, Aug. 17, at 3 p. m. The meet is sponsored by the Kingston Post of the American Legion, the Kingston Kiwanis Club and the Williams Lake Athletic Club and is sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

The American Legion trophy was first held in 1936. It is open only to residents of Ulster county and was designed to build up local interest in competitive swimming. The winner of this 100-yard free-style race each year is accepted as the official Ulster county champion by the AAU.

Walnes First Winner

It was won the first year by Urho Walnes of Binnewater. Joe Heidcamp, a Kingston swimmer, has held the trophy the most times by winning it in 1941, '42, '46, '47, and '48. He also holds a record for the race at 59.9 seconds which he made back in 1942. Walter Himmelberg, of Tillson, who won the championship in 1938, '39, and '40 is the only other swimmer to win it for three successive years. Last year's victory went to Merle Thorpe, of Rosendale, who successfully defended the title which he won in 1950. Merle is expected to try to make it three in a row this year.

The Kiwanis trophy was inaugurated in 1940 to give the local girls a race similar to the American Legion race to point up to. This 50-yard free-style for residents of Ulster county also is recognized by the AAU as the official county championship. The first winner was Lois Parry of High Falls who successfully defended her title the following year. After Miss Parry released her hold on the title it was passed about by Helen, Pat and Betty Raisner, sensational Rosendale swimmers, in a string of victories broken only once until last year when Altrude Palmer, of New Paltz, took the title from Betty Raisner. The record for this race is held by Pat Raisner at 30.9 seconds made in 1944.

Other Features

A few races for children and Williams Lake Athletic Club members and comedy and fancy diving by the Newburgh Aquatic Club will round out Sunday's program. John Weber, commander of the Kingston Post of the American Legion, and Raymond W. Garraghan, president of the Kingston Kiwanis Club, will be on hand to present the new champions their prizes.

Entries will be accepted up until 2 p. m. Sunday by Fred Dippel, athletic director at Williams Lake.

LA Rams Are Favored Over All Star Squad

Chicago, Aug. 14 (AP)—Much to the distress of Coach Jumbo Joe Stydahar, his Los Angeles Rams have been installed a two touchdown favorite over the College All-Stars in their football game at Soldier Field tomorrow night.

Joe Can't see the odds that way and has become the first coach of the 1952 gridiron season to get out the crying towel. He says "It's a one-shot game for the All-Stars and each boy on that squad is ready to play his heart out. That gives the All-Stars a psychological advantage.

"A pro team can't get so high. Although the All-Star game is big stuff, the height of the pro season lies ahead—the competition for the championship.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Anyone who knows baseball and has watched Little League competition, if only a couple of innings, must have come away convinced that the program is a sound one.

The value of Little League to the overall picture of baseball and juvenile recreation has been proved beyond the shadow of doubt. But some bugs are developing in the complex machinery—and from an unexpected source—the parents.

Maybe it isn't so unexpected when you consider that many a Little League has to select 60 players from an original tryout list of 400 or more. It is only human to expect most of the folks to think their Johnny should be on the squad.

If Bob Umpleby has been hounded by such problems, he is only one of thousands of Little League directors in the same boat. We know that he has but, like all other directors, he just grins and bears it.

More than often some of the great rhubarbs that crop up in Little League are created—not by the players—but by the adult managers and coaches. You would be amazed at some of the skullduggery that goes on between rival managers in the matter of postponed games, pitching rotations et al.

The rules regarding the use of pitchers in Little League is strict and exacting. When postponed games have to be played off and the pitching rotation of stars is involved, you'd be surprised how keenly the managers jockey for position.

Who knows how many irate parents have called on Bob Umpleby and other Little League directors, and demanded to know why junior didn't make the team. And how come the kid next door, who couldn't carry junior's glove, is playing? And why did you put in a pinch hitter for Ethelbert? Didn't he get a base on balls, and didn't that stupid umpire (where did you get him?) call him out—when everyone knows he was safe on that bunt?

Think back, parents, and realize how wrong you were in your demands. Little League managers, like everyone else, hate to see their teams lose a ball game. They want to win and are not overlooking any bets. Believe it, if a kid's good enough he's going to be in there swinging.

If anything ever kills Little League baseball, heaven forbid, it will be the parents. That could very well be the case. Parents, it seems, have to grow up. They have to learn to sit back and take the wins with the losses; and junior's good days with the bad. After all, what league did dad ever lead?

The fathers and mothers of Little League baseball players should get out and watch their boys in action. They have every right to feel proud and cheer when he makes a good play or lines out a hit. That's as far as it goes however. When the kid makes a mistake, or when he's benched in favor of some other youngster, the parents should take it in stride, just as the boy has to.

One mother in Manchester, N. Y., whose son did not make the league poured out her venom to the local sports editor:

"Have you ever had to sit and watch a little fellow cry his heart out after reading your letters of rejection? How can one help but resent the merchants who back this mockery of "American sport," wrote "Mom of a Young Reject." You can sympathize with "Mom" for her temporary disappointment, but such bitterness is hardly the American way.

Then you have those smart-alecks just above Little League age who never have and never will contribute anything to American sport. They sit in the bleachers and roast the youngsters with barbed comments. What have these high school, crewcut droops to laugh about?

Little League makes an honest effort to be fair and impartial in its selection of players and handling of teams. Some parents will never see it that. And when junior makes the grade and runs into trouble they can't stand up to realities.

Better, after a rough day or rejection, they take junior aside and say: "Son, maybe it's good it happened this way. Makes you realize that nothing comes easy. It's that way in life, too. We have to learn to take our disappointments and keep trying. You did fine, just fine. You looked great up there. But you got to swing at 'em, son. You can't get a hit with the bat on your shoulder. Cheer up! You'll win the next time. Come on to the store. You want a soda or something? I want to get a cigar.

Bill Van Aken Defeats Dr. Holcomb, 5 & 4 To Gain Semi-Finals in Wiltwyck Tourney

Bill Van Aken, who holds two Wiltwyck Club and two City golf titles, fired a one-over-par 71 to defeat Dr. Fred Holcomb, Jr., 5 and 4, Tuesday in the quarter finals.

The victory achieved with a sparkling 33 on the back nine moved Van Aken, four-time club finalist, into Saturday's semi-finals against youthful Harvey Bostic.

Roy Vogt, the hardy perennial, is already in the semi-finals where he meets the winner of the Watts Bailey-Clarence "Dubby" Raichle match.

The 36-hole championship finals are scheduled at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Sunday.

Holcomb posted a 40 on the front nine to stay within a stroke of his favored opponent but two 5s, a six and a 7 sent him skidding five behind at the end of 15 holes to terminate the match. He carded 42 on the back nine for an 82.

Trails Only Once

The doctor led once, 1-up, when he got a par on the 2nd hole to Van Aken's bogie-4. Van Aken cracked the rugged No. 3 for a par-4 to square the match. He went one-up on the seventh, lost the 8th to Holcomb's par-3 to tie the match for the second time and went ahead to stay with a par-4 on the 9th.

Van Aken, hitting his irons with deadly precision, had the greens zeroed on the first five holes of the second nine to reel off 3-3-4-4-3, while Dr. Holcomb started with a double-bogie 6 and carded 5-5-4-7 after halving the 11th with a par-3.

Van Aken's front nine card showed eight 4s and a bogie-6 on the dog-leg sixth hole. He birdied the first and fifth holes and had seven pars the second time around.

The cards:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Par Out .... | 434 | 445 | 434 | –35 |
| Van Aken Out | 444 | 446 | 444 | –38 |
| Holcomb Out | 435 | 446 | 536 | –40 |
| Par In ..... | 434 | 445 | 434 | –35 |
| Van Aken In | 334 | 435 | 434 | –33 |
| Holcomb In | 635 | 547 | 435 | –42 |

Van Aken's total 71; Dr. Holcomb 82.

Hit Song Avenges Goshen Setback; World Mark Tied

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14 (AP)—A world's pacing record was tied and Hit Song, second to Sharp Note in the Hambletonian last week, avenged that defeat in the Review 3-year-old trot to headline Grand Circuit races at the Illinois State Fair yesterday.

Sampson Hanover, taking the first heat of the Ann Rutledge 14 Class pace in 1:57 4/5, equalled the world's race record, made last year at Lexington by Good Time.

Frank Ervin, who drove Good Time to the mark, was behind Sampson as the handsome brown horse owned by K. D. Owen of Houston, Tex., beat Guinea Gold and Red Sails in a blanket finish. Guinea Gold, owned and driven by Pearle Hungerford, and Red Sails, with Roy Riegle driving, were clocked in 1:59 4/5.

First heat of the Review Trot was almost an exact duplicate of the Hambletonian, until Hit Song edged home in front. Sharp Note was second and Duke of Lullwater third. On the second trip, the Duke broke stride and finished fifth with Sharp Note again trailing Hit Song, which is owned by the Arden Homestead of Goshen, N. Y., and was driven by Harry Pownall. Bi Shively, 74-year-old reinsman, again drove Sharp Note. Ten horses started, nine of them Hambletonian racers last week.

Nardico Awarded TKO Over Sabotin

Referee Lew Parker stopped the bout at 1:53 of the fifth round after Nardico opened a deep cut over the Warren, O., fighter's left eye.

At the time Sabotin was ahead of the Tampa, Fla., light heavyweight by three rounds to one on the official cards and was outpunching and outboxing the man who decisioned him three months ago in his only other professional 10-rounder.

Sabotin weighed 176½, a half pound more than Nardico.

Del Flanagan, 147, of St. Paul, won by a TKO over Danny Stepanovich, 146½, of Pittsburgh in the semi-final. The bout was stopped at 1:14 of the sixth of 10 slated rounds when Flanagan opened a gash on Stepanovich's forehead.

Bests Tommy Fisher In Pitcher's Duel

Up until last night, Chez Emile had dropped three straight decisions in the second half of the City Baseball League. Now, for the second night in a row the Chezzies have the grand opportunity of again acting in the role of spoilers.

The Chezzies spoiled Jones Dairy bid for an unbeaten second round record Wednesday night when "Red" Hinkley fired a neat one-hitter for a 2 to 0 victory over the Milkmen.

Tonight, the Chezzies will be right back at the old stand hoping to dish out the same prescription to the Colonial Merchants who backed into first place as a result of the Dairymen's loss last night.

Hinkley out-dueled veteran Tommy Fisher in a seven-inning thriller which was decided by single runs in the second and fifth inning.

Faces 21 Batters

While Hinkley turned in his best mound effort of the season, he had to show his best in order to clip the Dairymen and particularly Fisher. Fisher only gave up four hits but wasn't helped to any degree as his mates were charged with three errors.

Hinkley, on the other hand, faced exactly 21 batters in his seven-inning test. He showed perfect control by not walking a man and his teammates gave him airtight support.

Tommy Carlino, shortstop for the losers, broke up Hinkley's bid for a no-hitter with a clean shot between third and short. After that the Dairymen never came close to picking up another safety off the big redhead. As it turned out, Carlino wasted the blow by being caught in an attemped steal of second base.

Errors Ruin Fisher

The Chezzies pushed across their initial marker in the second. After Barnes reached on Carlino's boot, Bob Baumer forced him at second and stole the bag after Hinkley whiffed. Baumer raced all the way from second when Glaser's roller to third was thrown into right-field by Jones.

Another unearned run came across in the fifth. Glaser reached on Carlino's second error. Red Gorsline singled and both Glaser and Gorsline were pushed up on Decker's bunt. Bob Olen's drive to right scored Glaser after the catch.

The winners threatened on two other occasions but Fisher settled down and got out of the jams. In the first inning, singles by Glaser and Decker and a walk to Olen loaded the bases. Fisher proceeded to fan Slover and got Benjamin to force Olen at second to end the threat. In the fourth inning, Barnes doubled with one out but again Fisher shut the door when he got Baumer to bounce out to the box and got Hinkley on strikes.

League to Continue

City League officials meeting after last night's game decided to continue with the present four games a week schedule unless another string of washouts turn up, Secretary Bob Steeger said today. The league statistican pointed out that at the four games a week rate play will finish during the Labor Day week.

The Pacific Coast Lawn Tennis championship tournament will be held in Berkeley, Calif., Sept. 20-28.

Hutton Defeats Block by 4 to 2 In Opening Game

Hutton Park scored a 4 to 2 victory over Block Park in the first of three games in the Boys' Rec Baseball League.

The winners held a 3-0 edge until the Blockers pushed over single tallies in the sixth and seventh frames to mar the shutout victory bid.

H. Benicassa pitched the victory for the winners and gave up only two scattered hits. Houghtaling and Woods worked for the losers.

The next game in the series is scheduled for Block Park.

Free-Style Events to Mark 17th Swim Meet Sunday at Williams Lake

Thorpe Due to Seek Third Straight Title In Legion Race; Girls Vie for Kiwanis

The American Legion 100-yard free-style for men and the Kiwanis 50-yard free-style for women will be the feature events at the 17th annual trophy meet to be held at Williams Lake in the town of Rosendale, Sunday, Aug. 17, at 3 p. m. The meet is sponsored by the Kingston Post of the American Legion, the Kingston Kiwanis Club and the Williams Lake Athletic Club and is sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

The American Legion trophy was first held in 1936. It is open only to residents of Ulster county and was designed to build up local interest in competitive swimming. The winner of this 100-yard free-style race each year is accepted as the official Ulster county champion by the AAU.

Walnes First Winner

It was won the first year by Urho Walnes of Binnewater. Joe Heidcamp, a Kingston swimmer, has held the trophy the most times by winning it in 1941, '42, '46, '47, and '48. He also holds a record for the race at 59.9 seconds which he made back in 1942. Walter Himmelberg, of Tillson, who won the championship in 1938, '39, and '40 is the only other swimmer to win it for three successive years. Last year's victory went to Merle Thorpe, of Rosendale, who successfully defended the title which he won in 1950. Merle is expected to try to make it three in a row this year.

The Kiwanis trophy was inaugurated in 1940 to give the local girls a race similar to the American Legion race to point up to. This 50-yard free-style for residents of Ulster county also is recognized by the AAU as the official county championship. The first winner was Lois Parry of High Falls who successfully defended her title the following year. After Miss Parry released her hold on the title it was passed about by Helen, Pat and Betty Raisner, sensational Rosendale swimmers, in a string of victories broken only once until last year when Altrude Palmer, of New Paltz, took the title from Betty Raisner. The record for this race is held by Pat Raisner at 30.9 seconds made in 1944.

Other Features

A few races for children and Williams Lake Athletic Club members and comedy and fancy diving by the Newburgh Aquatic Club will round out Sunday's program. John Weber, commander of the Kingston Post of the American Legion, and Raymond W. Garraghan, president of the Kingston Kiwanis Club, will be on hand to present the new champions their prizes.

Entries will be accepted up until 2 p. m. Sunday by Fred Dippel, athletic director at Williams Lake.

LA Rams Are Favored Over All Star Squad

Chicago, Aug. 14 (AP)—Much to the distress of Coach Jumbo Joe Stydahar, his Los Angeles Rams have been installed a two touchdown favorite over the College All-Stars in their football game at Soldier Field tomorrow night.

Joe Can't see the odds that way and has become the first coach of the 1952 gridiron season to get out the crying towel. He says "It's a one-shot game for the All-Stars and each boy on that squad is ready to play his heart out. That gives the All-Stars a psychological advantage.

"A pro team can't get so high. Although the All-Star game is big stuff, the height of the pro season lies ahead—the competition for the championship.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Anyone who knows baseball and has watched Little League competition, if only a couple of innings, must have come away convinced that the program is a sound one.

The value of Little League to the overall picture of baseball and juvenile recreation has been proved beyond the shadow of doubt. But some bugs are developing in the complex machinery—and from an unexpected source—the parents.

Maybe it isn't so unexpected when you consider that many a Little League has to select 60 players from an original tryout list of 400 or more. It is only human to expect most of the folks to think their Johnny should be on the squad.

If Bob Umpleby has been hounded by such problems, he is only one of thousands of Little League directors in the same boat. We know that he has but, like all other directors, he just grins and bears it.

More than often some of the great rhubarbs that crop up in Little League are created—not by the players—but by the adult managers and coaches. You would be amazed at some of the skullduggery that goes on between rival managers in the matter of postponed games, pitching rotations et al.

The rules regarding the use of pitchers in Little League is strict and exacting. When postponed games have to be played off and the pitching rotation of stars is involved, you'd be surprised how keenly the managers jockey for position.

Who knows how many irate parents have called on Bob Umpleby and other Little League directors, and demanded to know why junior didn't make the team. And how come the kid next door, who couldn't carry junior's glove, is playing? And why did you put in a pinch hitter for Ethelbert? Didn't he get a base on balls, and didn't that stupid umpire (where did you get him?) call him out—when everyone knows he was safe on that bunt?

Think back, parents, and realize how wrong you were in your demands. Little League managers, like everyone else, hate to see their teams lose a ball game. They want to win and are not overlooking any bets. Believe it, if a kid's good enough he's going to be in there swinging.

If anything ever kills Little League baseball, heaven forbid, it will be the parents. That could very well be the case. Parents, it seems, have to grow up. They have to learn to sit back and take the wins with the losses; and junior's good days with the bad. After all, what league did dad ever lead?

The fathers and mothers of Little League baseball players should get out and watch their boys in action. They have every right to feel proud and cheer when he makes a good play or lines out a hit. That's as far as it goes however. When the kid makes a mistake, or when he's benched in favor of some other youngster, the parents should take it in stride, just as the boy has to.

One mother in Manchester, N. Y., whose son did not make the league poured out her venom to the local sports editor:

"Have you ever had to sit and watch a little fellow cry his heart out after reading your letters of rejection? How can one help but resent the merchants who back this mockery of "American sport," wrote "Mom of a Young Reject." You can sympathize with "Mom" for her temporary disappointment, but such bitterness is hardly the American way.

Then you have those smart-alecks just above Little League age who never have and never will contribute anything to American sport. They sit in the bleachers and roast the youngsters with barbed comments. What have these high school, crewcut droops to laugh about?

Little League makes an honest effort to be fair and impartial in its selection of players and handling of teams. Some parents will never see it that. And when junior makes the grade and runs into trouble they can't stand up to realities.

Better, after a rough day or rejection, they take junior aside and say: "Son, maybe it's good it happened this way. Makes you realize that nothing comes easy. It's that way in life, too. We have to learn to take our disappointments and keep trying. You did fine, just fine. You looked great up there. But you got to swing at 'em, son. You can't get a hit with the bat on your shoulder. Cheer up! You'll win the next time. Come on to the store. You want a soda or something? I want to get a cigar.

Bill Van Aken Defeats Dr. Holcomb, 5 & 4 To Gain Semi-Finals in Wiltwyck Tourney

Bill Van Aken, who holds two Wiltwyck Club and two City golf titles, fired a one-over-par 71 to defeat Dr. Fred Holcomb, Jr., 5 and 4, Tuesday in the quarter finals.

The victory achieved with a sparkling 33 on the back nine moved Van Aken, four-time club finalist, into Saturday's semi-finals against youthful Harvey Bostic.

Roy Vogt, the hardy perennial, is already in the semi-finals where he meets the winner of the Watts Bailey-Clarence "Dubby" Raichle match.

The 36-hole championship finals are scheduled at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Supday.

Holcomb posted a 40 on the front nine to stay within a stroke of his favored opponent but two 5s, a six and a 7 sent him skidding five behind at the end of 15 holes to terminate the match. He carded 42 on the back nine for an 82.

Trails Only Once

The doctor led once, 1-up, when he got a par on the 2nd hole to Van Aken's bogie-4. Van Aken cracked the rugged No. 3 for a par-4 to square the match. He went one-up on the seventh, lost the 8th to Holcomb's par-3 to tie the match for the second time and went ahead to stay with a par-4 on the 9th.

Van Aken, hitting his irons with deadly precision, had the greens zeroed on the first five holes of the second nine to reel off 3-3-4-4-3, while Dr. Holcomb started with a double-bogie 6 and carded 5-5-4-7 after halving the 11th with a par-3.

Van Aken's front nine card showed eight 4s and a bogie-6 on the dog-leg sixth hole. He birdied the first and fifth holes and had seven pars the second time around.

The cards:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Par Out .... | 434 | 445 | 434 | –35 |
| Van Aken Out | 444 | 446 | 444 | –38 |

Van Aken's total 71; Dr. Holcomb 82.

Hit Song Avenges Goshen Setback; World Mark Tied

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14 (AP)—A world's pacing record was tied and Hit Song, second to Sharp Note in the Hambletonian last week, avenged that defeat in the Review 3-year-old trot to headline Grand Circuit races at the Illinois State Fair yesterday.

Sampson Hanover, taking the first heat of the Ann Rutledge 14 Class pace in 1:57 4/5, equalled the world's race record, made last year at Lexington by Good Time.

Frank Ervin, who drove Good Time to the mark, was behind Sampson as the handsome brown horse owned by K. D. Owen of Houston, Tex., beat Guinea Gold and Red Sails in a blanket finish. Guinea Gold, owned and driven by Pearle Hungerford, and Red Sails, with Roy Riegle driving, were clocked in 1:59 4/5.

First heat of the Review Trot was almost an exact duplicate of the Hambletonian, until Hit Song edged home in front. Sharp Note was second and Duke of Lullwater third. On the second trip, the Duke broke stride and finished fifth with Sharp Note again trailing Hit Song, which is owned by the Arden Homestead of Goshen, N. Y., and was driven by Harry Pownall. Bi Shively, 74-year-old reinsman, again drove Sharp Note. Ten horses started, nine of them Hambletonian racers last week.

Nardico Awarded TKO Over Sabotin

Cleveland, Aug. 14 (AP)—Lalu Sabotin, way ahead on the scorecards, ran into a looping right last night and lost a main event to Danny Nardico by a technical knockout.

Referee Lew Parker stopped the bout at 1:53 of the fifth round after Nardico opened a deep cut over the Warren, O., fighter's left eye.

At the time Sabotin was ahead of the Tampa, Fla., light heavyweight by three rounds to one on the official cards and was outpunching and outboxing the man who decisioned him three months ago in his only other professional 10-rounder.

Sabotin weighed 176½, a half pound more than Nardico.

Del Flanagan, 147, of St. Paul, won by a TKO over Danny Stepanovich, 146½, of Pittsburgh in the semi-final. The bout was stopped at 1:14 of the sixth of 10 slated rounds when Flanagan opened a gash on Stepanovich's forehead.

Bests Tommy Fisher In Pitcher's Duel

Up until last night, Chez Emile had dropped three straight decisions in the second half of the City Baseball League. Now, for the second night in a row the Chezzies have the grand opportunity of again acting in the role of spoilers.

The Chezzies spoiled Jones Dairy bid for an unbeaten second round record Wednesday night when "Red" Hinkley fired a neat one-hitter for a 2 to 0 victory over the Milkmen.

Tonight, the Chezzies will be right back at the old stand hoping to dish out the same prescription to the Colonial Merchants who backed into first place as a result of the Dairymen's loss last night.

Hinkley out-dueled veteran Tommy Fisher in a seven-inning thriller which was decided by single runs in the second and fifth inning.

Faces 21 Batters

While Hinkley turned in his best mound effort of the season, he had to show his best in order to clip the Dairymen and particularly Fisher. Fisher only gave up four hits but wasn't helped to any degree as his mates were charged with three errors.

Hinkley, on the other hand, faced exactly 21 batters in his seven-inning test. He showed perfect control by not walking a man and his teammates gave him airtight support.

Tommy Carlino, shortstop for the losers, broke up Hinkley's bid for a no-hitter with a clean shot between third and short. After that the Dairymen never came close to picking up another safety off the big redhead. As it turned out, Carlino wasted the blow by being caught in an attemped steal of second base.

Errors Ruin Fisher

The Chezzies pushed across their initial marker in the second. After Barnes reached on Carlino's boot, Bob Baumer forced him at second and stole the bag after Hinkley whiffed. Baumer raced all the way from second when Glaser's roller to third was thrown into right-field by Jones.

Another unearned run came across in the fifth. Glaser reached on Carlino's second error. Red Gorsline singled and both Glaser and Gorsline were pushed up on Decker's bunt. Bob Olen's drive to right scored Glaser after the catch.

The winners threatened on two other occasions but Fisher settled down and got out of the jams. In the first inning, singles by Glaser and Decker and a walk to Olen loaded the bases. Fisher proceeded to fan Slover and got Benjamin to force Olen at second to end the threat. In the fourth inning, Barnes doubled with one out but again Fisher shut the door when he got Baumer to bounce out to the box and got Hinkley on strikes.

League to Continue

City League officials meeting after last night's game decided to continue with the present four games a week schedule unless another string of washouts turn up, Secretary Bob Steeger said today. The league statistician pointed out that at the four games a week rate play will finish during the Labor Day week.

The Pacific Coast Lawn Tennis championship tournament will be held in Berkeley, Calif., Sept. 20-28.

Beaver Whiffs 15, Yanks Win, 6 to 0

First Shutout Tossed In Esopus LL

In a battle of strikeouts, the Esopus Little League Yankees moved to within a half a game of the Indians by registering a 6 to 0 whitewash of the Giants Wednesday night.

Joe Beaver, the Yankee flinger, rolled up a strikeout total of 15 in turning in the first shutout of the Esopus LL schedule.

In chalking up his fifth victory, Beaver blanked the Giants on three hits.

Opposing Beaver was young Carl Van Wert who compiled 12 strikeouts and only permitted five hits but his mates' stickwork let him down.

The Yankees put over all the runs they needed in the first inning when they scored two. They added two more in the third and two more in the sixth to complete the 6-0 rout.

Beaver himself and McIntosh paced the winners with four of the five hits off Van Wert. Pratt picked up the only other hit. Watson, Shaver and Whittaker contributed singles for the losing Giants.

200-Lap Feature At Arlington Track

One of the East's stock car classics—the 200-lap Grand National Pleasure Car Championship, sponsored by the United Stock Car Racing Club of America, will be held Sunday night at Arlington Speedway.

The championship meet is restricted to late model pleasure cars (1948 through 1952) and is open to all American-made cars.

Jokko Maggiacomo, 1951 modified stock car champion and winner of 18 feature events this season, will see action along with a star-studded field that includes pilots from as far away as Florida.

Others in the crack field will be Ralph Sheeler, high-ranking speedster from New Jersey; Duke Southern, Johnny Cabral, Ed Gauvin and others.

The regular 25-lap Saturday night stock car program is scheduled along with another "Race of Doom" in which 50 cars will take part in a "slam session."

Wilson May Inherit U. S. Olympic Post

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, commissioner of the Big Ten, is slated to succeed Avery Brundage as president of the U. S. Olympic Association if Brundage decides he can't handle his two big jobs at once.

Brundage, millionaire Chicago building contractor who has been the dominant figure in American Amateur Athletics for quarter of a century, officially takes over today as president of the International Olympic Committee.

The question now is whether Brundage will attempt to carry his old load as U. S. Olympic chief with his new duties.

At the recent games in Helsinki, where he was elected, Brundage announced he planned to step out when the U. S. Olympic Association meets next fall.

Cleveland—Danny Nardico, 176, Tampa, stopped Lalu Sabotin, 176½, Warren, O., 5. Del Flanagan, 147, St. Paul, stopped Danny Stepanovich, 146½, Pittsburgh, 6.

The Scoreboard

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Joe Black is one major league rookie who is living up to his spring press clippings.

Back in March Black was hailed as another Don Newcombe in Brooklyn's training camp. Black was in great shape as he had spent the off season pitching in the Cuban Winter League. He was tabbed as the best bet to take up the slack caused by Newcombe's entry into the army.

Black was the first to admit that he wasn't in the same class as Newcombe but the 28-year-old righthander has contributed as much to the Dodger cause as big Newk did in the past.

It's doubtful if the Dodgers would be leading the National League by nine games today if it weren't for Black. Used entirely in relief roles, the Dodger recruit has appeared in 37 games, winning nine, losing two and saving several others.

Black took part in both ends of yesterday's day-night doubleheader against the runner-up New York Giants. He gained credit for the 5-4 day game triumph and was tapped for two unearned runs in the 8-4 night game defeat.

Chicago and Cincinnati and Philadelphia and Boston also split doubleheaders. The Cubs dropped the opener to the Reds, 11-3, but won the second game, 7-0. Philadelphia whipped the Braves, 3-0, but bowed, 9-3, in the night portion of the twi-night twin-bill. St. Louis and Pittsburgh were idle.

The New York Yankees retained their 2½ game lead over Cleveland in the American League, dividing a bargain bill with Washington while Cleveland halved a pair with the St. Louis Browns.

Washington drubbed the Yanks, 12-4, in the opener but lost the second game, 10-9 in 13 innings. The Browns tripped Bobby Feller and the Indians, 5-2, but Cleveland bounced back to grab the second game, 9-1. In other games, the Boston Red Sox blanked Philadelphia, 4-0, and the Chicago White Sox crushed Detroit, 7-1.

Hartung's Hit Decides

Black took over in the eighth inning of the see-saw opener at Ebbets Field with the score tied at 4-4. He halted a Giant rally in the eighth and got out of another jam in the ninth when he induced Hank Thompson to hit into a force play with the bases loaded and two out. Pee Wee Reese singled home Gil Hodges in the bottom of the eighth with the deciding run.

Clint Hartung almost was the goat in the second game. Hartung threw wild permitting two Dodgers to score during a four-run rally in the sixth that enabled the Brooks to tie the score at 4-4. But he atoned for his miscue by doubling home the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning.

Raschi Streak Halted

Bob Porterfield enjoyed a rare treat in the first game at the Yankee Stadium. The Senators supported his pitching with a 17-hit attack that included a grand-slam homer by former Yank Jackie Jensen. Six of Porterfield's 11 defeats have been shutouts. The loss snapped Vic Raschi's 11-game winning streak.

The twin bill, which lasted almost eight hours, was completed under the lights. Billy Martin squeezed home Yogi Berra to climax a game-winning three-run rally in the 13th. Mickey Vernon put the Senators out in front, 9-7, with a two-run homer off Tom Gorman in the top of the 13th.

Vernon's homer was only the third hit allowed by Gorman after he took over in the fourth. The first hit off Gorman was a two-out ninth inning homer by Eddie Yost that sent the game into overtime.

Home runs also highlighted the doubleheader at Cleveland. Bobby Young decided the opener in favor of St. Louis with a three-run homer in the sixth off Bob Feller.

The Indians went to town early in the second game, scoring four runs in the first inning against Cliff Fannin. Al Rosen sparked the uprising with a three-run homer, his 20th. Early Wynn checked the Browns on four hits to gain his 15th triumph.

Lefty Mel Parnell and Clyde Vollmer teamed up to lead the third place Red Sox to victory over the A's. Parnell yielded only three hits while Vollmer drove in three runs on a homer and two singles.

Team Events Are Scheduled for Recreation Lanes

Doubles and Singles At Bowlodrome

The 16th annual Kingston Bowling Association city tournament championships will get underway Monday night, February 9, 1953, at John Sangi's Central Recreation alleys on Railroad avenue, members of the executive board of the KBA announced last night.

Action on picking the tournament dates took place during the annual dinner meeting of the board at Twaalfskill Golf Club during which time Thomas Orr was installed as new president of the organization.

All of the five-man events will be rolled at the Central Rec drives starting February 9 and will continue through Sunday, February 15.

Singles and doubles competition will be rolled at Ferraro's Bowlodrome, Cornell street, during the two-day weekend beginning Saturday, February 21, continuing through Sunday, February 22.

Class System Out

The 16th annual tournament scheduled early next year will be operated on a 75 per cent handicap system, a change from the three classes used in the past years.

This action was ordered during the annual KBA board of directors convention held April 22 of this year at the YMCA.

Executive board members have hailed the end of the three classes, A, B and C, for the 75 per cent handicap system and officials look forward to a greater interest in the 1953 tournament. One official at last night's meeting said "the handicap system is the salvation of bowling and we're sure this system will attract more association keglers into the competition next February."

Meanwhile, members of the newly elected KBA board were installed at last night's dinner meeting.

Others on the KBA board include Charles J. Tiano, Addison Jones, Gil Sampson, Peter Keresman, Louis G. Bruhn, Mike Mostransky, Ray Houghtaling and Vernon Freese.

Plan New Awards

Another discussion brought before last night's meeting was the possibility of the KBA awarding a different award for next year's high single winners in the various leagues coming under the jurisdiction of the Kingston Bowling Association. It was announced that a committee will be named at the September meeting to explore this possibility.

Announcement also was made that Robert G. Lynch, field representative of the American Bowling Congress in New York, has planned to visit Kingston again this year. At this meeting, the official bowling family of the Saugerties Bowling Association will be invited to meet with the local group. The exact date of Lynch's appearance will be announced.

The next regular meeting of the KBA executive board is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 10, at the YMCA.

The Art of Catching Pan Fish

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

There is just a little more art to catching pan fish on the fly rod than most observers allow. For this reason, one fellow will catch eight or ten bluegill while another chap takes 40 or 50 in the same pond at the same time.

Not that numbers of fish are an estimate of sportsmanship—you can always put back what you can't eat—but it's natural to want to improve your skill in any sport.

The techniques of fly fishing for pan fish are fairly routine in application. None of the pan species is fast on his fins, and in general it seems best to work the fly slowly.

With a dry fly, for instance, make as long a cast as possible if you're not aiming at a rising fish and let the lure set for 10 or 15 seconds before retrieving. The retrieve should be made in short, halting steps, giving the fish plenty of time to get off the bottom and look the feathers over.

The wet fly should be fished in much the same manner, the only difference being that a longer time should be allowed before starting the retrieve to get the fly down as deep as possible. You can facilitate sinking by using a good leader sink preparation. The natural path of insect food in a lake is from bottom to top—unless you are actually fishing in the surface when the bees and ants are blowing on the water.

One of my favorite pan fish lakes is heavily wooded, with the exception of the southeast side where the shore is bordered by a large meadow. On days when there's a good wind blowing out to the south, that end of the pond gets a liberal dose of grasshoppers and crickets tossed on the surface.

Both the grasshoppers and crickets move across the water in short jerks, and any small hackle patterns, or, preferably, sedge pattern fished in the same way will connect instantly. A small Willowleaf or Idaho blade about the size of your thumbnail, in tandem with a gaudy wet fly is always a good bet.

The lure is fished down and across stream on a long drift and brought back slowly, fluttering very close to the bottom. Only wingless flies are reliable for this type of fishing.

A "hackle" pattern tied with a fat body is very lifelike and easily manipulated. Trout flies are substitutes, but they are not nearly as satisfactory because of the turned down eye employed on trout hooks and the sparse dressing. Long, flowing hackles and ringed eye hooks to allow freedom of motion between fly and spinner—that's the stuff good spinner flies are made of.

Simple dressings such as yellow chenille body, yellow hackle, and a bright red tail, or an orange chenille body with white hackle and red tail, are far better for pan fish than fancy trout patterns.

200-Lap Feature At Arlington Track

One of the East's stock car classics—the 200-lap Grand National Pleasure Car Championship, sponsored by the United Stock Car Racing Club of America, will be held Sunday night at Arlington Speedway.

The championship meet is restricted to late model pleasure cars (1948 through 1952) and is open to all American-made cars.

Jokko Maggiacomo, 1951 modified stock car champion and winner of 18 feature events this season, will see action along with a star-studded field that includes pilots from as far away as Florida.

Others in the crack field will be Ralph Sheeler, high-ranking speedster from New Jersey; Duke Southern, Johnny Cabral, Ed Gauvin and others.

The regular 25-lap Saturday night stock car program is scheduled along with another "Race of Doom" in which 50 cars will take part in a "slam session."

Wilson May Inherit U. S. Olympic Post

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, commissioner of the Big Ten, is slated to succeed Avery Brundage as president of the U. S. Olympic Association if Brundage decides he can't handle his two big jobs at once.

Brundage, millionaire Chicago building contractor who has been the dominant figure in American Amateur Athletics for quarter of a century, officially takes over today as president of the International Olympic Committee.

At formal ceremonies in Lausanne, Switzerland, the stocky 65-year-old mid-westerner will receive the official key of the games' highest office from the outgoing president, J. Sigfrid Edstrom of Sweden.

The question now is whether Brundage will attempt to carry his old load as U. S. Olympic chief with his new duties.

At the recent games in Helsinki, where he was elected, Brundage announced he planned to step out when the U. S. Olympic Association meets next fall.

Cleveland—Danny Nardico, 176, Tampa, stopped Lalu Sabotin, 176½, Warren, O., 5. Del Flanagan, 147, St. Paul, stopped Danny Stepanovich, 146½, Pittsburgh, 6.

First Shutout Tossed In Esopus LL

In a battle of strikeouts, the Esopus Little League Yankees moved to within a half a game of the Indians by registering a 6 to 0 whitewash of the Giants Wednesday night.

Joe Beaver, the Yankee flinger, rolled up a strikeout total of 15 in turning in the first shutout of the Esopus LL schedule.

In chalking up his fifth victory, Beaver blanked the Giants on three hits.

Opposing Beaver was young Carl Van Wert who compiled 12 strikeouts and only permitted five hits but his mates' stickwork let him down.

The Yankees put over all the runs they needed in the first inning when they scored two. They added two more in the third and two more in the sixth to complete the 6-0 rout.

Beaver himself and McIntosh paced the winners with four of the five hits off Van Wert. Pratt picked up the only other hit. Watson, Shaver and Whittaker contributed singles for the losing Giants.

Clint Hartung almost was the goat in the second game. Hartung threw wild permitting two Dodgers to score during a four-run rally in the sixth that enabled the Brooks to tie the score at 4-4. But he atoned for his miscue by doubling home the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning.

Raschi Streak Halted

Bob Porterfield enjoyed a rare treat in the first game at the Yankee Stadium. The Senators supported his pitching with a 17-hit attack that included a grand-slam homer by former Yank Jackie Jensen. Six of Porterfield's 11 defeats have been shutouts. The loss snapped Vic Raschi's 11-game winning streak.

The twin bill, which lasted almost eight hours, was completed under the lights. Billy Martin squeezed home Yogi Berra to climax a game-winning three-run rally in the 13th. Mickey Vernon put the Senators out in front, 9-7, with a two-run homer off Tom Gorman in the top of the 13th.

Vernon's homer was only the third hit allowed by Gorman after he took over in the fourth. The first hit off Gorman was a two-out ninth inning homer by Eddie Yost that sent the game into overtime.

Home runs also highlighted the doubleheader at Cleveland. Bobby Young decided the opener in favor of St. Louis with a three-run homer in the sixth off Bob Feller.

The Indians went to town early in the second game, scoring four runs in the first inning against Cliff Fannin. Al Rosen sparked the uprising with a three-run homer, his 20th. Early Wynn checked the Browns on four hits to gain his 15th triumph.

Lefty Mel Parnell and Clyde Vollmer teamed up to lead the third place Red Sox to victory over the A's. Parnell yielded only three hits while Vollmer drove in three runs on a homer and two singles.

Springfield, Ill.—Sampson Hanover, equalled the world's record of Good Time in winning the first heat of the Ann Rutledge 14 Class pace in 1:57 4/5 at the Illinois State Fair.

Team Events Are Scheduled for Recreation Lanes

Doubles and Singles At Bowlodrome

The 16th annual Kingston Bowling Association city tournament championships will get underway Monday night, February 9, 1953, at John Sangi's Central Recreation alleys on Railroad avenue, members of the executive board of the KBA announced last night.

Action on picking the tournament dates took place during the annual dinner meeting of the board at Twaalfskill Golf Club during which time Thomas Orr was installed as new president of the organization.

All of the five-man events will be rolled at the Central Rec drives starting February 9 and will continue through Sunday, February 15.

Singles and doubles competition will be rolled at Ferraro's Bowlodrome, Cornell street, during the two-day weekend beginning Saturday, February 21, continuing through Sunday, February 22.

Class System Out

The 16th annual tournament scheduled early next year will be operated on a 75 per cent handicap system, a change from the three classes used in the past years.

This action was ordered during the annual KBA board of directors convention held April 22 of this year at the YMCA.

Executive board members have hailed the end of the three classes, A, B and C, for the 75 per cent handicap system and officials look forward to a greater interest in the 1953 tournament. One official at last night's meeting said "the handicap system is the salvation of bowling and we're sure this system will attract more association keglers into the competition next February."

Meanwhile, members of the newly elected KBA board were installed at last night's dinner meeting.

Others on the KBA board include Charles J. Tiano, Addison Jones, Gil Sampson, Peter Keresman, Louis G. Bruhn, Mike Mostransky, Ray Houghtaling and Vernon Freese.

Plan New Awards

Another discussion brought before last night's meeting was the possibility of the KBA awarding a different award for next year's high single winners in the various leagues coming under the jurisdiction of the Kingston Bowling Association. It was announced that a committee will be named at the September meeting to explore this possibility.

Announcement also was made that Robert G. Lynch, field representative of the American Bowling Congress in New York, has planned to visit Kingston again this year. At this meeting, the official bowling family of the Saugerties Bowling Association will be invited to meet with the local group. The exact date of Lynch's appearance will be announced.

The next regular meeting of the KBA executive board is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 10, at the YMCA.

The Art of Catching Pan Fish

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

There is just a little more art to catching pan fish on the fly rod than most observers allow. For this reason, one fellow will catch eight or ten bluegill while another chap takes 40 or 50 in the same pond at the same time.

Not that numbers of fish are an estimate of sportsmanship—you can always put back what you can't eat—but it's natural to want to improve your skill in any sport.

The techniques of fly fishing for pan fish are fairly routine in application. None of the pan species is fast on his fins, and in general it seems best to work the fly slowly.

With a dry fly, for instance, make as long a cast as possible if you're not aiming at a rising fish and let the lure set for 10 or 15 seconds before retrieving. The retrieve should be made in short, halting steps, giving the fish plenty of time to get off the bottom and look the feathers over.

The wet fly should be fished in much the same manner, the only difference being that a longer time should be allowed before starting the retrieve to get the fly down as deep as possible. You can facilitate sinking by using a good leader sink preparation. The natural path of insect food in a lake is from bottom to top—unless you are actually fishing in the surface when the bees and ants are blowing on the water.

One of my favorite pan fish lakes is heavily wooded, with the exception of the southeast side where the shore is bordered by a large meadow. On days when there's a good wind blowing out to the south, that end of the pond gets a liberal dose of grasshoppers and crickets tossed on the surface.

Both the grasshoppers and crickets move across the water in short jerks, and any small hackle patterns, or, preferably, sedge pattern fished in the same way will connect instantly. A small Willowleaf or Idaho blade about the size of your thumbnail, in tandem with a gaudy wet fly is always a good bet.

The lure is fished down and across stream on a long drift and brought back slowly, fluttering very close to the bottom. Only wingless flies are reliable for this type of fishing.

A "hackle" pattern tied with a fat body is very lifelike and easily manipulated. Trout flies are substitutes, but they are not nearly as satisfactory because of the turned down eye employed on trout hooks and the sparse dressing. Long, flowing hackles and ringed eye hooks to allow freedom of motion between fly and spinner—that's the stuff good spinner flies are made of.

Simple dressings such as yellow chenille body, yellow hackle, and a bright red tail, or an orange chenille body with white hackle and red tail, are far better for pan fish than fancy trout patterns.

Texas Enters 13th Day of 100-Plus Heat

(By The Associated Press)

August turned up its burners today over wide areas of the nation.

Much of Texas went into the 13th consecutive day of 100-degree plus heat wave. The mercury mounted toward the high 80s and 90s in the northern and southern Rockies and northern Great Plains.

Parts of Kansas also sweltered in 100 degree heat Wednesday, Hill City reporting a high of 103.

Rising temperatures were forecast for most of the midwest.

Cooler weather came to the coastal regions of the Pacific northwest and cool Canadian air moved over the extreme northern plains.

Tornadoes ripped up several farms in eastern Nebraska Wednesday night, damaging farm homes and buildings and injuring at least six persons.

Crewmen Are Safe

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 14 (AP)—All 15 crewmen parachuted to safety from a stricken B-29 Superfort just before it crashed and burned early today about 65 miles southwest of Spokane. The flyers, who bailed out in pitch darkness over sparsely settled wheat farming country, were located by farmers who scoured the area with flashlights. Fairchild Air Force Base said the pilot ordered all members of his crew to jump after the plane developed engine trouble and before he bailed out.

Driver Reported Unhurt

The sole occupant of this station wagon appeared to be unhurt after it crashed into a tree along the Sawkill road about 3:30 a. m. today. The front end of the vehicle was badly damaged and the pole was broken, observers reported. Neither state police at Kingston or Phoenicia, nor the Ulster County Sheriff's office, had a report on the accident this morning. The driver of the vehicle was said to be a Connecticut resident vacationing at a farm near Zena. (James E. Anner photo.)

Shooting Breaks Out

Athens, Greece, Aug. 14 (AP)—A new outbreak of shooting was reported today on the jittery Greek-Bulgarian border. A Greek army communique said Bulgarians opened fire without warning yesterday on a Greek patrol on Mount Belles in Greek territory, and the Greek soldiers answered with machine guns. The communique said a United Nations team of observers had gone to the spot to investigate.

J. H. Delaney Dies

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—John H. Delaney, 81, who unified New York city's Rapid Transit System—The largest in the world, died today in Doctors' Hospital. As head of the city Rapid Transit for 21 years, Delaney directed unification of the system and the building of the independent subway division. He retired as head of the board of transportation in 1945.

Rails Deadlock Reported

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—A dispute that has threatened a strike on New York Central Lines between Buffalo and New York city was deadlocked today despite three days of peace efforts by government mediators. "The situation is absolutely unimproved," commented Charles H. Keenen, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. "There is no reason for optimism."

'Cooperation' Assured

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson's hand-picked Democratic national chairman called on President Truman today and then told reporters there will be "complete cooperation" between Truman and Stevenson in the Democratic presidential campaign. The new party chairman, Stephen A. Mitchell, spent 25 minutes conferring with the President. It was his first call on Truman since his appointment was announced last Friday.

But He Had Skirt

London, Aug. 14 (AP)—Burglar James O'Neill was trying on some clothes he had taken when he heard the owners returning. He hurriedly grabbed what he thought was a pair of trousers and fled out the back door. A few minutes later he returned sheepishly—wearing a woman's skirt. He was sentenced yesterday to three months in jail on charges of stealing.

Held Without Bail

Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—A Bethpage, N. Y., laborer was held without bail yesterday for grand jury action on a charge of assaulting a 15-year-old girl and for further questioning about a series of Long Island sex crimes. The man, Ray Saunders, 32, denied any knowledge of the case against him when he was booked for second degree assault in Nassau county court.

Unique Twist in Suit Over Her Sterilization

Front Royal, Va., Aug. 14 (AP)—A suit charging a doctor with wrongfully sterilizing an electrician's wife was scheduled to come before the Warren County Circuit Court today.

A unique twist in the case, brought by James E. Williams, 26, was the fact that his wife gave birth to her fourth child two weeks ago. Williams asked $25,000 damages from Dr. Lyle J. Mansbrough, Front Royal surgeon, claiming the doctor's operation on Mrs. Williams had rendered her "permanently barren."

Williams said the operation was performed on Sept. 9, 1950, without his permission and thus was illegal. Mrs. Williams delivered her third child on that date.

Dr. Mansbrough, 42, retorted that the operation was done for contraceptive purposes. He denied that the husband's permission is required by law.

Williams has refused to say what effect on the case will be caused by his wife's giving birth again. There was no comment from his counsel, either.

Twenty persons have been summoned for jury duty and a panel of 12 was to be chosen from them today.

Shoot Man, Rush Plasma

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—Police shot a burglary suspect today and then formed a mercy mission to rush blood plasma to save his life. Police said Patrolman Thomas Santise shot Donald J. Casamassina, 20, in the abdomen when the latter refused to halt after being discovered in a grocery store by a police patrol car crew at 1:20 a. m. (EST). Casamassina was taken in serious condition to Metropolitan Hospital. Hospital authorities notified police he needed "O Positive" plasma but that none was on hand. A police radio car was dispatched to a Red Cross blood bank and obtained the plasma.

Peasants to Get Cut

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 14 (AP)—Iran's down-trodden peasants looked forward today to a "new deal"—an extra 10 per cent cut from the giant-sized landlord's share of what they produce. The decree ordering a better break for the nation's poverty-stricken sharecropping farmers was issued yesterday by Premier Mohammed Mossadegh. It also specified that the landlords must deposit another 10 per cent of the income from their estates in special rural banks to aid needy farmers.

with the full-flavored brew that is light and dry, too!
Today's Schaefer combines everything you have ever wanted in a beer. It is light, but full-flavored. It is dry, but not at the expense of character. It has satisfying body, yet is not heavy. And it develops a rich, full head—the crowning glory of a great beer. This Schaefer is the heritage of 110 years of skillful brewing. We believe it is the finest beer America has yet produced.

Schaefer BEER
The moment you taste this superb beer, you'll know you're drinking something very special. From the finest barley malt, grain and hops the Schaefer brewers have produced the perfectly balanced beer that has been their goal since 1842. This is the greatest beer Schaefer has ever brewed . . . a beer that has been 110 years in the making. Our hand has never lost its skill!
